AGREEMENT ENDS MOORE DIVORCE WAR

Property Settlement Shuts
Off Testimony on Wife's Claim of Mash Note Trap
For Rich Oakland Dentist

Husband, on Stand, Denies He Was Tricked By Letters; Tells Court He Wrote to Try to Discover Sender

The divorce suit of Mrs. Lillian Moore against Dr. J. Franklin Moore, prominent Oakland dental specialist, which has provided a three-day sensation, came to a sudden end in Superior Judge Kinsell's court today when attorneys produced an agreement settling the property rights of the couple out of court.

Judge Kinsell announced that he would give his decision on the case tomorrow morning.

The settlement came as a surprise to those who have been following the case, and a large crowd was in the court room to listen to the testimony.

Immediately after the case was called Judge Charles E. Snook, representing Mrs. Moore, and Attorney John W. Gwilt, representing the dentist, produced an agreement settling the property rights. Under its terms Mrs. Moore is given $125 a month for her support, the family home at 327 Santa Clara avenue, and stocks and bonds estimated at $20,000.

MASH NOTE TRAP
DENIED BY HUSBAND.

The settlement came as the aftermath to the sensational testimony given on the stand by Dr. Moore at yesterday's sessions in which he denied that he had ever advertised for female companions for week-end motor trips, and said that in writing a series of letters to "Miss Grace Vance" he was simply posing as "An estimable advertiser." He made a blanket denial of his wife's charges that she had tricked him into writing "mash notes" to her under the impression that he was corresponding with another woman.

The testimony of Dr. Moore, who is defendant in a divorce suit, and who is pressing a counter suit for divorce, ran the gamut from the depths of emotion, when he came near tears as he told of efforts at reconciliation, to the ludicrous, when he told of an occasion when his wife called him up at the office, succeeded in having him leave a patient in the midst of an important operation, only to tell him that "a gopher" that has been digging in the back yard is out of the hole.

LOVE NOTES DISCUSSED WITH A CHIROPDIST.

The "Grace Vance" letters were read into the record yesterday afternoon by Judge Charles E. Snook, attorney for Mrs. Moore, who questioned Dr. Moore closely upon the contents of the letters. In reply to his questions, Dr. Moore testified that when he became suspicious of the letters he took the matter up with Dr. H. A. Anderson, chiroprapist, and discussed the situation with him. He said that on one occasion when he went to Bellevue hotel to keep an appointment with "Grace Vance" he took Dr. Anderson with him.

He also claimed that on another occasion, coincident with the arrival of a Dr. Filmer from Pasadena, he sent Dr. Filmer to his home to remain with Mrs. Moore while he went to a spot near Grand avenue to keep one of the appointments made with his unknown correspondent.

"My plan," said Dr. Moore, "was to get an automobile and take her to my home to confront my wife. I was not sure in my suspicions whether it was my wife or a decoy that was using and I was trying to find out."

WIFE'S WRITING NOT FULLY DISGUISED.

Asked what roused his suspicions, Dr. Moore said that although his wife disguised her handwriting in the letters, "she forgot at times and there were certain characteristic letters like 'i' and 'm' which I found and which I thought I recognized."

At this point Superior Judge Kinsell, who is hearing the case, questioned the witness, saying: "You really believe all this case that Mrs. Moore knew of your correspondence?"

Alton in Test Case Seeks to Change Working Rules in Train Service.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (By United Press).—Railroads of the country today opened the battle for abolition of the eight-hour day among train service employees with the filing of a petition before the United States Railroad Labor Board by the Chicago & Alton, asking modification of working rules.

The Alton asked:

1.—Abolishment of time and one-half pay for overtime in road freight, transfer and hostler service.

2.—Extension of the time limit service in short turn passenger service from eight to ten hours.

3.—Extension of the work-day in outlying yards.

"This is the first step by the railroads to abolish or radically modify rules governing the working of train service employees," declared a statement made by engine and trainmen brotherhoods.

"If the Alton's petition is granted, other roads can be expected to immediately take advantage of the opening."

"The Alton is picked to make the test case because it is in the hands of a receiver and the ability to pay has been a prime factor in previous decisions by the Railroad Labor Board."

Railroad executives here would not comment on the Alton case, but admitted they were watching the outcome closely.

Railroad union leaders have contended that as soon as the wage reduction and change in working rules of other classes of employees, such as shopcrafts, maintenance of way workers, had been successfully put into effect, the railroads would concentrate on the trainmen's brotherhoods.

While individual railroads have not commented on the Alton case, before the board, they did not have the backing of all the lines, and indefinite postponements were granted in most cases.

RIGHT-HOUR DAY
BREAK NOT FEARED.

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Nov. 2.—With 85 per cent of the class one railroads in the country holding signed agreements with the "big four" that they will continue the present wage scales and working conditions for another year, President L. E. Sheppard of the conductors does not fear the attempt of the Chicago & Alton to break the eight-hour day and working conditions of that road by appearing before the railroad board.

"The petition of the Chicago & Alton, which is before the Labor board, is not unlike petitions which are filed by almost all others, the officers of which desire to get away from the time and one-half pay for all overtime in road freight and hostler service, and to get an extension of time limit on short-turn passenger runs," he said.

"The other roads withdrew their petition when I and President W. G. Lee appeared before officers of the different roads as representatives of the trainmen and yardmen and reached agreements by which present wage scales and working rules will remain in force for a year."

CASTOR'S STORY IS CRUX OF CASE, CLAIMED.

"The fact that the prosecution cannot get away from this case here is that it begins and ends with Arthur Castor. If he is beyond belief, if he is such a character that you cannot credit his statement, then there is nothing to this case."

"He is the foundation of this case, the cornerstone—if you do not believe him, there is nothing left to this case. There is nothing on which the prosecution can ask you to convict."

"Mr. Friedman discussed everything but Arthur Castor. Any witness Friedman didn't like he

'KIDNAPED' WOMAN MAY ASK DIVORCE

Alleged Victim of Ku Klux Klan Abduction Said to Have Visited District Attorney's Office to File Suit

According to Official She Will Seek Decree Against
Edgar J. Fuller, Kiegle

Edgar J. Fuller, former Kiegle of the Sacramento Ku Klux Klan, was arrested this afternoon in Oakland at the request of Chief of Police Bernard Shann of Sacramento. Shann wired here this morning to hold Fuller, his bondsman in a pending libel suit having surrendered him. A Sacramento officer is expected here this evening to take him into custody.

Otto Bach and J. S. Stevens, of Sacramento instructed District Attorney Bradford there that they wished to withdraw the $2000 they had put up as Fuller's bail in a suit brought by W. R. Cook, candidate in the primary election for sheriff. Fuller's "one hundred per cent American" Klan paper, made certain charges against Cook which resulted in the suit.

Mrs. Helen Fuller, wife of Edgar J. Fuller, Ku Klux Klan Kiegle, and her four-year-old daughter, Helen, who disappeared from home yesterday, have not been kidnapped by klansmen, as charged by Fuller, but are hiding in Oakland pending the filing of divorce proceedings contemplated by Mrs. Fuller.

When it was disclosed today by District Attorney Extra Decoto almost simultaneously with the issuance of a statement from a member of Fuller's household announcing that Fuller is at his home at 3101 Summit street in a serious condition from a nervous collapse. His condition was described as being "extremely serious."

According to Decoto, Mrs. Fuller, on the day of her disappearance, visited his office. She was accompanied by her daughter, Helen Fuller. Decoto said, consulted a member of Decoto's staff, declaring she had left her home, and that she wanted to file a divorce suit. She displayed a well-filled suit case which she said she was taking with her.

CHARGES KIEGLE
TREATED HER CRUELY.

Mrs. Fuller was quoted as having said she had been treated "cruelly" by Fuller, and virtually had been kept a prisoner in the Fuller home.

It was learned that Mrs. Fuller had resided continuously in this state only eight months, according to Decoto, she was informed it would be necessary for her to reside here four more months before she could institute divorce proceedings. Fuller, thereupon left, announcing that she would establish the necessary legal period of residence.

A woman who identified herself as being a member of the Fuller household, when told of Mrs. Fuller's reported visit to the office of the district attorney, said she questioned that Mrs. Fuller had made the statement attributed to her, adding:

"Mrs. Fuller is a splendid, sensible little woman, but she has suffered terribly both mentally and physically. I doubt that she visited the office of the district attorney or that she made the statement attributed to her."

WOMAN AT ONCE
THREATENED SUICIDE.

"If she did, however, it can be ascribed to the strain she has been under. At one time her sufferings became so acute she threatened suicide. Recently, however, she apparently had improved."

Edinburgh, took the time that the Conservatives and National Liberals were met by a common danger and he asked whether their forces were so overwhelming that they could afford to divide them in a manner the more likely to bring about their defeat.

He was able to judge the labor party would make themselves felt at the coming election, if they came into power he thought it would be disastrous for the country, and those who would immediately and profoundly suffer would be the wage earning classes.

Two Bandits Knock Down, Rob Girl Cashier

Unmasked Thugs Get $2782 and Escape in Automobile.

Two unmasked bandits intercepted Miss Nellie Shaffer, cashier of the Rosenthal Sales Store, 506 Fourteenth street, in front of the establishment this afternoon as she was enroute to a bank, knocked her down, took away a bag containing $2,782 and escaped in an automobile.

The crime was witnessed by scores of passers-by, many of them women, who screamed as the two youths beat their victim to the sidewalk.

The police were notified, and Inspector Thomas Wood immediately responded with a posse.

Orders were issued to the police to guard all avenues of escape, including all main street thoroughfares.

According to Miss Shaffer, she was leaving Rosenthal's sales store to deposit the day's receipts in the bank. She carried the money in a bag. It was in currency and checks, the larger amount being in currency.

As she emerged through the doorway of the store her progress was blocked by two young men. Before she was aware of what was happening one of them struck her down. The other grabbed the bag.

Both men then climbed into a roadster and fled.

BRITISH WORKERS STUNNED BY VOTE

Labor's Candidates Routed
in Municipal Fight; Balfour Warns of Menace.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(By International News Service).—Former Premier David Lloyd George, who has been ill of throat affliction, showed improvement today.

LONDON, Nov. 2 (By The Associated Press).—Prime Minister Bonar Law, in an address to a meeting of women in the Drury Lane theater this afternoon, said: "I venture to express the hope that America gradually may take an interest in the League of Nations in some form or another and may gradually feel that it is her duty to help in the chaos in which the war has left the world."

LONDON, Nov. 2.—(By The Associated Press).—Stunned by the heavy downfall of their candidates in the municipal elections throughout England yesterday, the laborites intensified their political campaign today with the hope of making a better showing in the general election for parliament November 15.

In yesterday's hallooting the laborites lost 149 seats they previously had held in London and about 160 seats in eighty boroughs outside the capital. The outcome has certainly made labor's prospects for parliament very discouraging.

In some instances labor's representation was completely wiped out in the municipal elections.

New candidates are being nominated daily, and there are now nearly fourteen hundred nominations. A striking feature is the large number of professional men standing under the labor banner. These include several well-known barristers and authors.

Edinburgh, took the time that the Conservatives and National Liberals were met by a common danger and he asked whether their forces were so overwhelming that they could afford to divide them in a manner the more likely to bring about their defeat.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The United States intends to remain independent of the League of Nations. This is one of the prime considerations that this government has in mind, as President Harding and Secretary Hughes are conducting negotiations designed to make American an official party to the permanent court of international justice, commonly known as the World Court.

Before the United States will become a signatory power to the world court, Secretary Hughes must secure an agreement of the powers members of the League of Nations and the court to such changes and modifications in the protocol of the court as will insure American independence of the league, it is believed in informed quarters here.

MORAN CHARGES TREASON IS IMPLY.
Discussing further alleged irregularities within the higher spheres of the "Invisible Empire" Moran said: "The treasury of the Sacramento klan is empty and no charter ever has been granted from the national headquarters."

"Another strange thing about klan operations in California is this: Everywhere else in the United States a robe costs $6, in California the klan robes have been charging $5.00. I am going to find out who has been getting the extra 50 cents. These robes are manufactured in Atlanta by klanism."

Replies to Fuller's charges that he had stolen robes and paraphernalia from Fuller's rooms Moran said:

"These goods are the property of the Sacramento klan, and are now in the proper hands."

FULLER'S ARREST WILL BE ASKED.
Raymond T. Couchman, Sacramento attorney, announced today that he will see a warrant for Fuller's arrest charging a violation of a section of the penal code. This procedure is based upon charges preferred against Fuller by J. B. Monahan, a former klanism, who declares that Fuller caused to be distributed in Sacramento on the evening preceding the primary election of August 29 the circulars purporting to be issued by the "Catholic Welfare League," advising "good government ticket."

Monahan states that Fuller bought the circulars from Oakland, causing them to be distributed in Sacramento through volunteers who were committed to secrecy in the matter.

threw them out. He threw out everyone but Arthur Castor.

Castor came in for a severe argument at Murphy's hands. Beginning his analysis of the latter's evidence, Murphy said: "Let's see what this sweet smelling gentleman had to say at the preliminary hearing—this member of the firm of Bader, Castor and Herron. If the gentlemen (indicating the prosecution forces) had their own way, or if they would tell the truth, they are sorry they ever heard of Henry Wilkens—sorry William Herron went down to a big newspaper and sold them the story—this story that has the Arabian Nights backed off the board."

According to reports, the stage line carried University of Santa Clara students from Santa Clara to the Stanford-Santa Clara football contest, October 14. According to the complaint filed with the railroad commission by the Peninsula railway which operates a line between San Jose and Palo Alto, the bus people, according to the figure at which the railways had agreed with the University fathers to transport the football party and understand that figure, in spite of warnings given them by the railroad commission not to get off their licensed route.

Occupants Unhurt in 150-Foot Auto Plunge

SARATOGA, Nov. 2.—Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Phelps of Woodland, narrowly escaped death and their automobile was demolished late yesterday when the steering apparatus on the car broke while Phelps was driving down the Saratoga summit grade and the machine plunged over an embankment. Both Phelps and his wife were thrown clear of the car when it fell to a rocky ledge 150 feet down the embankment. The machine plunged to the creek 100 feet below where the man and woman landed, and was dashed to pieces on the boulders. Phelps, after examination of the machine that no attempt will be made to salvage it.

BOY CONFESSES SLAYING RECLUSE

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Elmer Washburn, 14, was last night being held in the Susquehanna county jail at Montross, Pa., charged with the murder of Cyrus Payne, 75 years old, recluse, whose body was found Sunday in his cabin at Brushville. State troopers, who questioned the boy said that he had made a complete confession and led them to a woodshed where he had hidden $2400 taken from the home of the murdered man. The troopers found a bag containing $62 in gold and some old coins in the cache.

Payne was beaten to death with the stock of a rifle which troopers found hidden in the attic of his home.

INVITE MEXICO TO PAN-AMERICA MEET, IS PLEA

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 2.—Participation of Mexico in the Pan-American Congress in Santiago, Chile, which was held in doubt, has given rise to much editorial comment here, the consensus of opinion being that if Mexico is not invited to the conference she will lend herself readily to a Pan-American league of nations as recently suggested by President Brum, of Uruguay.

There is in the editorials an undercurrent of pique and hurt at the thought that Mexican participation is even in question. El Universal recently stated that if Mexico is not present at Santiago, the congress will not have full significance and will serve to create a feud between Spanish-America and Washington. The newspaper says it believes that Latin countries will eventually demand that Mexico be admitted as an equal.

Back From the Arctic--

Our fur trading ships are again in port after experiencing the worst Arctic ice conditions in 30 years.

Last Spring our vessels left San Francisco on their annual trip north to our trading stations along the Alaskan and Siberian coasts—a voyage of approximately 9000 miles.

As soon as Arctic waters were reached the ships encountered unusually severe ice conditions, which prevailed the entire season. During the three months when they were out of communication with the outside world, it was not known whether the ships had survived or been crushed by the grinding ice.

The ships were apparently hopelessly locked in the ice, and preparations were made to abandon the ships and strike out for shore on foot over the treacherous floating ice cakes. But each time wind and currents were in their favor and they were brought safely to port.

An exhibit of a portion of this fur cargo gathered on this expedition will be in our Grant Avenue windows tomorrow and Friday. Be sure to see it.

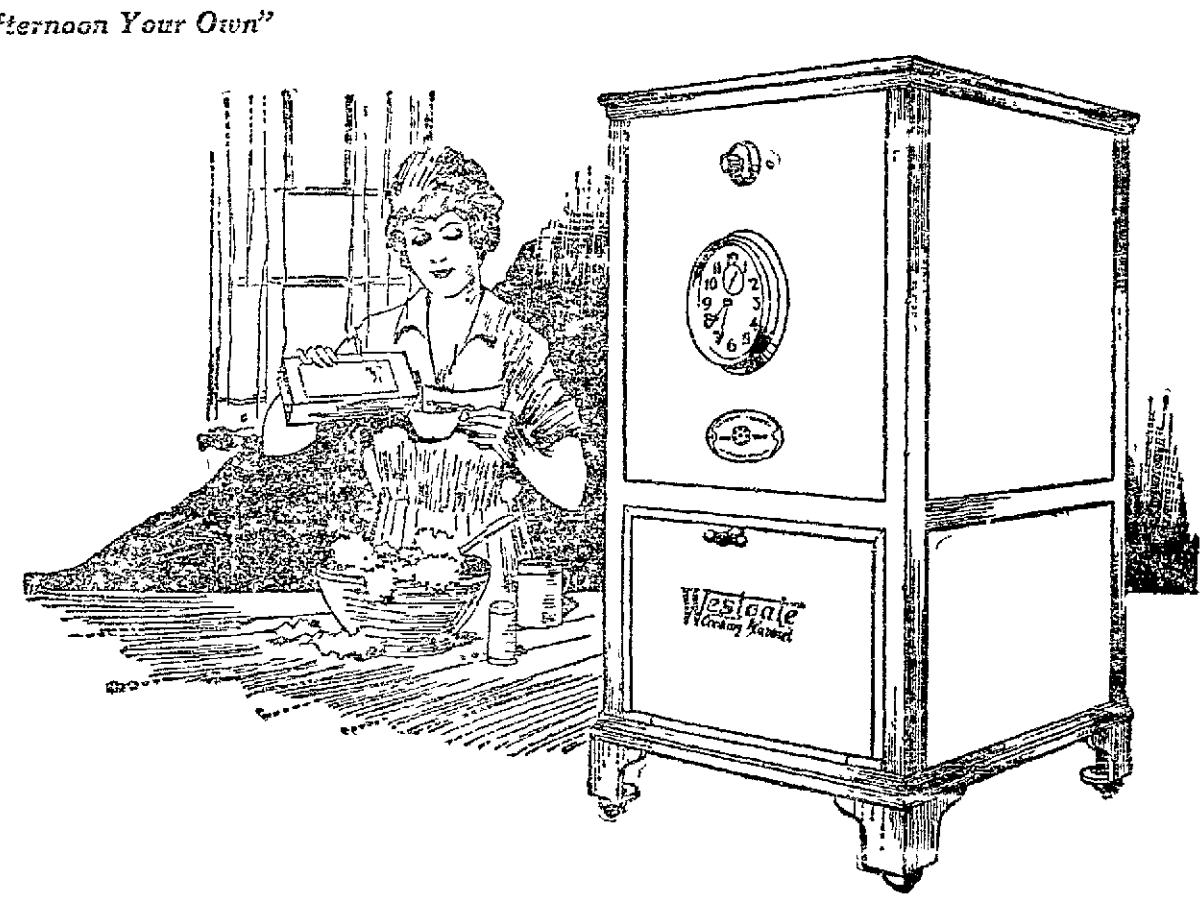

We guarantee every fur we sell.

Now--Improve Your Cooking and gain far more leisure

Every woman wants to improve her cooking.

And what is more important, she wants more leisure.

The average day isn't half long enough for her to get everything done.

But now, you can add two or three hours to each day, because when you use the Westgate Automatic Electric Cooking Cabinet, you don't really have to "cook" dinner.

You simply place the entire meal in the Cabinet in the morning—then you're through until time to serve it.

And you get better meals than you have ever had before—thoroughly cooked, delicious and nutritious. The cost is lower, because shrinkage is eliminated. Therefore, the same amount of food goes farther.

Meals cannot burn or scorch, because the patented automatic control turns off the current when it gets hot enough, then turns it on again at the right time to maintain proper cooking temperature.

And you don't even have to be there to start the cooking. The clock does that.

It operates from an ordinary light socket and is not a fireless cooker. It is a real cook stove which surpasses anything you ever tried.

BODY OF PAGE TO REST BESIDE WIFE

AT WASHINGTON

Body of Former Ambassador to Italy Will Be Buried at National Capital.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEAST WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 2.—Within the Old Fork church, where he was christened, near his boyhood home "Oakland," in Hanover county, the funeral services of Thomas Nelson Page, author, lawyer and ambassador to Italy, will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and, later in the day, his body will be laid to rest beside that of his wife in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Page died suddenly of acute cardiac dilatation yesterday while walking with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Roswell Page, in the garden of his estate, which is situated upon an original grant in the town of England to the "Colonial magnate, Thomas Nelson."

Services at the church will be simple, members of the family said, and at noon the body will be placed aboard a northbound train at Ashland. At 4 o'clock, final rites will be said at the grave in Washington. Plans on all public buildings in the state were at half mast today as a mark of respect to the distinguished Virginian.

Recently Mr. Page after many months of work, completed a biography of Dante, and on Tuesday had received a letter from former President Wilson complimenting him upon the book. He suffered an attack of pneumonia last winter and, at that time, his condition was considered serious, but within a few weeks he again was at work on the biography.

Born April 23, 1853, the son of Major John and Elizabeth Nelson Page, Mr. Page spent his boyhood days in Virginia. He later attended Washington college, Washington, and Lee university and the University of Virginia and then practiced law in Richmond.

In 1893 he moved to Washington. After marrying Miss Anne Sedgwick Bruce in 1898, Mr. Page resumed his literary work, which he had begun while a student, and finally devoted his entire time to writing. Most of his stories, which attained wide popularity, were of a western life.

Following the death of his wife, Mr. Page went abroad and in 1893 he married Mrs. Florence Lathrop Field, widow of Henry Field of Chicago. She died June 6, 1921. The author had come to his Virginia home, where he planned to spend the remaining days of his life, to begin work on his "Memoirs" as ambassador to Italy during the Wilson administration.

Mr. Page is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Algernon Barnaby of England, and Mrs. Thomas Lindsey of Boston, and a brother, Roswell Page, of this city.

FOUR ARE HELD AS ROBBER BAND

SANTA ROSA, Nov. 2.—Following a series of daring hold-ups and assaults in the vicinity of Santa Rosa, one of which is believed to have resulted in the death of a victim, Arthur Matthias, 24 years old, his brother, Valentine Matthias, 19, and Raymond McDonald, 25, and Louis del Carlo, 22, were arrested last night at Petaluma. They are specifically charged with gagging and robbing Charles Ferrari, and with assaulting T. J. Sullivan, a contractor, Tuesday night.

Officers say they have evidence that they also were connected with the robbery of Harry Gray, a linotype operator, and they are endeavoring to identify them with the mysterious assault upon Joseph Vogel, a former Redwood City resident, 65 years old, who died here last night of blood clot. Vogel was found Monday night in an unconscious condition and with his money gone. There were no bruises about him, but during a lucid interval before his death he said he had been beaten and robbed.

Sheriff Boyes says the Matthias brothers admit the robbery of Ferrari, but deny that they were connected with the assaults. Arthur Matthias is the divorced husband of Jessie Montgomery, who figured in the sensational Howard street "snack" case that resulted in penitentiary sentences for several men in San Francisco about a year ago.

The junior locked the door again and hurried to the police station for aid. When he returned, the stranger had made his getaway through a rear window. A search of the library revealed nothing had been disturbed.

Stranger Locked in Library in Alameda

ALAMEDA, Nov. 2.—Claiming to have been locked in the Alameda public library all night by mistake, a shabby stranger escaped through a window when his presence was discovered by the janitor Charles Prendible this morning.

The janitor locked the door again and hurried to the police station for aid. When he returned, the stranger had made his getaway through a rear window. A search of the library revealed nothing had been disturbed.

COLLEGE BOYS READY FOR NEXT BIG GAME

"Say, Jack, let's take the girls to the game next week. What do you say?"

"It might be a good idea. Millie has been at me to teach her the fine points of football, so this will be a good opportunity to improve her knowledge of football."

"Let's buy the girls some flowers which display the school colors and do the thing up right. What do you say to taking them to supper and the theater afterwards?"

"Aw, gee! I haven't any clothes for all that. A fellow doesn't have to dress for a football game, but if we do all that it's different."

"Gee whiz, 'Goo,' you've got more clothes than any other fellow in school."

"Not clothes. It's reputation left from last year. My dad has cut my allowance since then and I haven't had any new clothes this year. I've got to have some soon, too."

"Aw, say, that's tough! But say, I've got it. You know Cherry's, at 528 Thirteenth street, well they have some snappy new styles in suits and overcoats for young fellows and good values. And, by the way, they sell on credit."

ELSIE BENEDICT
PLANS NEW TALKS

ELsie Benedict, president of the International Human Sciences Association, will open her second free lecture course, Sunday evening, November 5, in the Oakland Auditorium theater, speaking on "Practical Psychology."

"Psychology," said Mrs. Benedict, "is a much abused word these days. All kinds of ideas, theories, and theories are being paraded in its name, till no one is safe in going to a 'psychology' lecture unless he wants to have the ouija board, auras, radiations and the 'whimsies' of the 'what' fringed in, not to mention his religion, politics and most sacred relationships."

"When you ask me why the largest crowds come to hear me, my explanation is that I confine myself to the actual workings of the human mind, the new scientific discoveries of mental attitudes and how they affect the body and the mind, and how these new-found facts can be applied to the everyday problems of everyday people."

"No one will deny that a man is no bigger than his mind, and yet no man's mind will do him much good unless he uses it right. Practical psychology, the subject of my new free lecture course, is just what it says it is—practical, workable, usable and effective."

"There is nothing mysterious about how to use one's mind to make it get you what you want in life—all successful people have known it and won exactly that way—but it is a most fascinating study."

"I would like to ask every man and woman in Oakland to be honest with himself and herself, and then ask this question: 'What has been going on inside my head most of the last five years?' Each would find that his life, experiences and achievements fitted unaccountably the main brain activities he has been indulging in."

Mrs. Benedict's lecture series is free and will continue eight consecutive evenings.

CRUELTY LAID TO
SHASTA OFFICERS

REDDING, Nov. 2.—Affidavits were sworn to here yesterday by W. W. Middleton, justice of the peace at Kennet and William Menzel and Richard Benton, business men of Redding, containing accusations against District Attorney Jesse W. Carter and his deputy, L. C. Smith in connection with the alleged mistreatment, several months ago, of Arthur Henry Norris, a boy prisoner.

It is alleged that the Norris boy was mistreated in the court room at Kennet in order to force a confession from him that he slew City Marshal Holmes of Redding, according to the makers of the affidavits, who were members of the posse that captured Norris, Deputy District Attorney Smith cursed and threatened the boy and afterward hit him a hard blow in the face.

County Recorder H. C. Woodman and L. C. Woodward, a searcher of records, had previously made affidavits corroborating those of Middleton, Smith and Menzel.

Norris was convicted and sentenced to be hanged. Soon after his conviction the legislature passed a law prohibiting capital punishment in the case of minors under eighteen. Norris at that time had just reached his eighteenth year. The governor commuted Norris' punishment to life imprisonment and he now is incarcerated in San Quentin.

SWISS-AMERICAN BANK, PETALUMA, ENTERS MERGER

Announcement of Purchase For $3,500,000 By Bank Of Italy Made.

PETALUMA, Nov. 2.—The Bank of Italy has entered Petaluma's financial field. This much was given out yesterday when the Petaluma Swiss-American Bank merged with the former institution. The transaction involves more than $3,500,000 in assets of the Petaluma Bank. No change will be made in the personnel of the Swiss-American Bank.

While Jess James and his family were driving along the road near Bolinas Sunday afternoon a frightened deer jumped from a thicket and landed in the tonneau of the car. There were two ladies and a child in the machine, and they were badly frightened at the sudden catapulting of the animal in their midst. James was driving on a downgrade at the time, and could not stop the car in order to secure the animal. In its struggle to escape the deer tore the coat of one of the women and leaped out and into freedom.

At the Sebastopol Congregational church Sunday afternoon, Miss Frances Willard Marshall became the bride of Glenn Milton Whittier of Green Valley. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Grover Emmons of Santa Rosa.

Residents of Stinson Beach, Marin county, and hundreds of hikers who spend their week-ends at the beach have been reaping the enjoyment of something for nothing of late, all because of the big oil tanker that went on the rocks in the Golden Gate recently. Scores of cases of canned goods came rolling in on the waves that lap the long beach, and there was keen rivalry among the "beach combers" for the prizes. One man is said to have garnered twenty cases of canned peaches, corn and tomatoes. Many others have collected an appreciable winter's supply of provender.

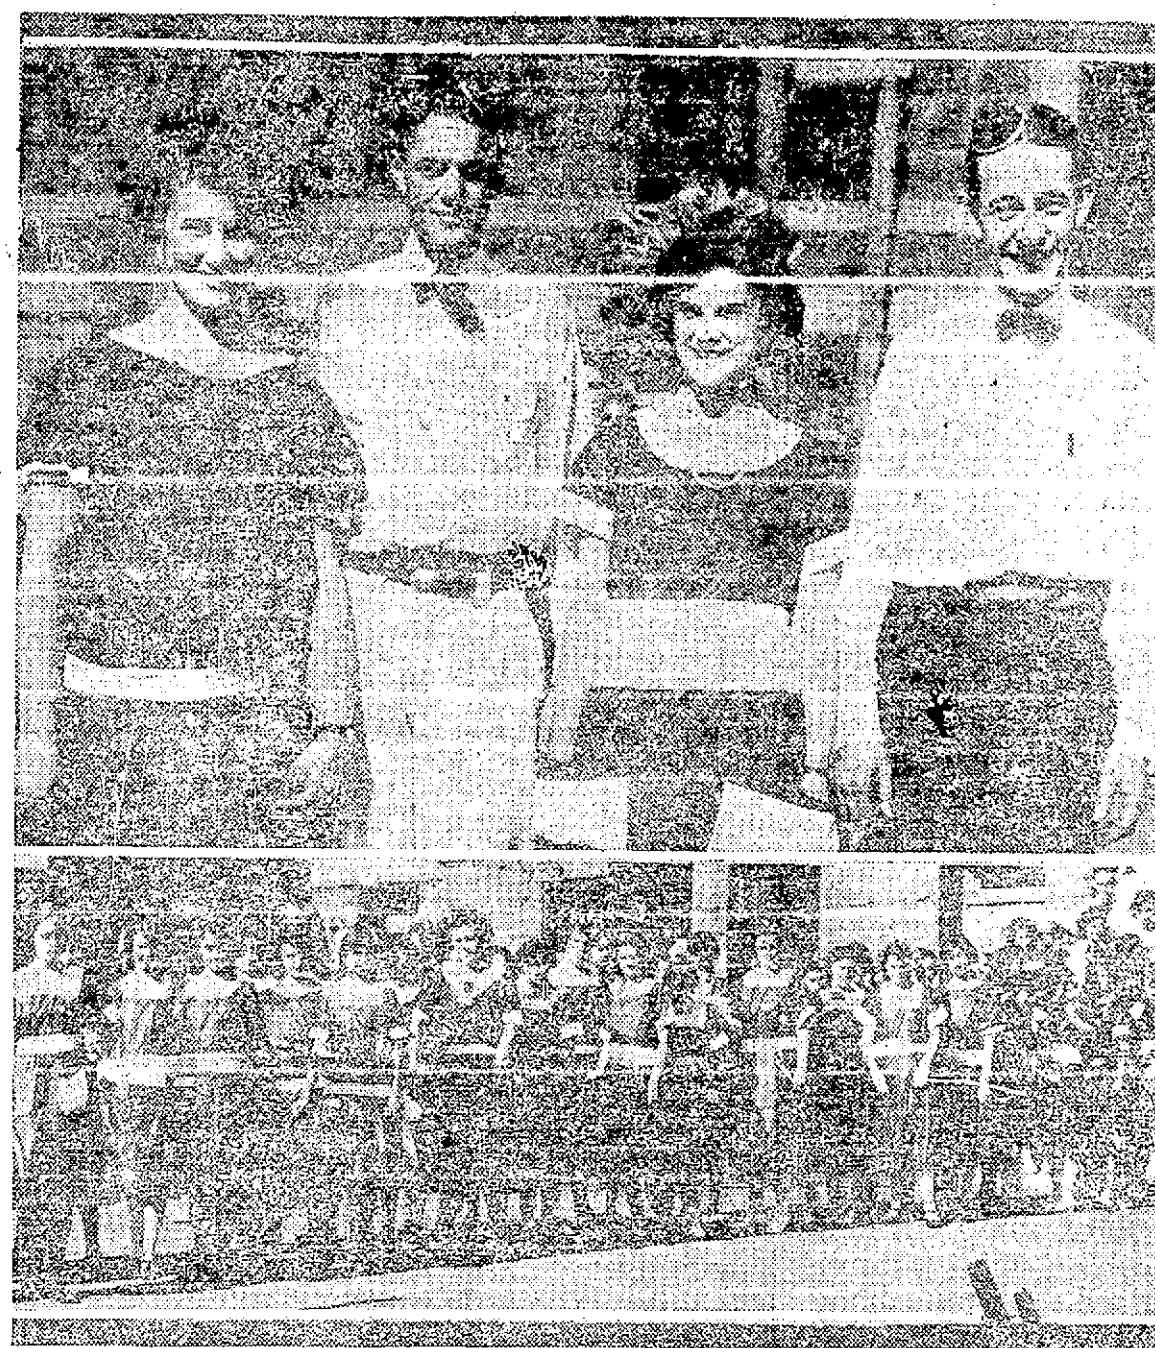

Mr. and Mrs. George P. McNear, who left here several weeks ago to attend the bankers' convention in New York, returned home Monday evening. They were met at Benicia by E. Denman McNear and party. They stayed in New York, where they spent much of their time with their son, George P. McNear, Jr., and family.

A meeting of special interest to women was held at the Woman's Clubhouse Tuesday afternoon. State President Mrs. W. A. Fitzgerald was present and gave an interesting talk on the biennial convention held at Lake Chautauque. There was special music and refreshments were served at the close of the program.

Everybody's Having a Regular Circus!

Annual Autumn Circus Held By Oakland High School Boys

A big half-holiday costume parade and circus was carried out yesterday afternoon by 1400 students of Oakland High school at the regular annual "circus" of the high and low seniors. The circus of Oakland High is the first of the regular series which breaks out in Oakland every autumn. The Oakland High school girls will hold their circus next Wednesday, and the circus of Fremont will be staged Friday.

In order to assist the participation of the boys' affair today, the girls appeared in their costumes for next Wednesday, adding color and confusion to the gala event. The affair began at noon, with a "grand parade" around the high school. Following this pageant, there were athletic events on the football field and then there was a program of literary exercises at Chabot hall.

Oakland High school's band worked five hours steadily, and the R. O. T. C. performed martial evolutions during the parade. ADAMS BURIAL AT PUEBLO. DENVER, Nov. 2.—The body of Alva Adams, three times governor of Colorado, who died in a sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich., yesterday, will be taken to Pueblo, Colo., Adams' old home, for burial. Adams was a leader in Democratic state politics and held high offices in Masonic circles.

Death Ends Career of William Hinckley Taylor

Hinckley Taylor, one of the last of the empire builders of the west, famous scout and pioneer railroad employee, and the man who picked up the smoking revolver with which President Lincoln was assassinated at the Booth theater in Washington, D. C., on April 15, 1865, is dead in Berkeley today. Taylor passed away in his sleep on Tuesday night, as he was visiting his brother, Sam Taylor, in Dos Palos, where he had gone to enjoy duck hunting. Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow in Berkeley at 1936 University avenue, and will be private.

T. Hornaday, famous curator of the Bronx Museum in New York, as his close personal friend. For eight years Taylor was deputy state insurance commissioner in California under Governor Henry T. Gage. He was a charter member of the Order of Railroad Conductors in America. Taylor never cherished wealth, for him to make good financially, he neglected them to enjoy other things which life offered him. He was born in New York. Surviving him is a widow, Mrs. Carrie Taylor, who brought the body to Berkeley today.

POISONED CANDY SENT MACHINIST; WRITING IS CLEW

Expert to Attempt Identification of Sender of Sweet By Words on Card

The services of a handwriting expert will be requisitioned by the Oakland police in an attempt to establish the identity of the person who, it is alleged, sent a poisoned box of candy to Central E. Peterson, a machinist, residing at 1830 East Twenty-eighth street. Ericson and his wife have been subjected to severe cross-examination by the police.

Ericson told a story to the effect that, when he received the box, he bit into a piece of the candy, and immediately fainted. The presence of the poison in the candy was definitely established when analyzed by City Chemist Dr. E. H. Barber.

Ericson produced a slip of paper with printed handwriting on it

CANCELLATIONS SCORE RECORD AT POSTOFFICE

Announcement was made today by Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough that yesterday was the busiest day in the history of the Oakland postoffice, in the matter of letter cancellations with the exception of Christmas. Yesterday's cancellations totaled 252,840. The average number of daily cancellations is about 1,000. The cancellations last Christmas amounted to 300,000.

The unusual number of letters was due largely to the flood of election mail. Ordinarily the number of cancellations before Christmas is from 150,000 to 160,000 in a single day.

Rosborough stated that the postal department would have every piece of political mail in the postoffice, in the hands of the people by Saturday night. It is urged that all political correspondence be mailed as quickly as possible to expedite delivery.

The postoffice has extra clerks and carriers working to handle the unusual flood of mail. The postal employees are clearing up all the mail each day in order that it may not pile up on their hands.

Three alarms were turned in which, he claims, accompanied the candy. The box was divided into two sections, and the slip of paper contained on one side the direction, "For the boy," and on the other side, "For you."

WAR VETERANS AND GIRLS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Twenty-five girls and nearly 100 disabled war veterans fled to safety down fire escapes today as flames destroyed the New York Institute of Photography building.

Three alarms were turned in as the fire swept through the building, imperiling hundreds of lives.

The ex-service men were government vocational students. The girls, who were led to the ground by some of the veterans, were at work on the fifth floor of the building. Several firemen were overcome as the blaze spread and thick clouds of black smoke filled the hallways during a prolonged search for persons who might have been overcome.

Endowments Sought For Orient Schools

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Endowment of six colleges in the Orient devoted entirely to the education of women is the object of a non-sectarian movement now under way in both the United States and Great Britain. It is the home of those interested in the movement, as outlined here today, to have a fund of $2,000,000 available soon for the acquisition of suitable sites, buildings and equipment. A gift of $1,000,000 from the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial Fund has been promised, conditional on the raising of $2,000,000 from other sources.

The colleges, which it is proposed to aid, are located in Tokyo, Japan; Teking and Nanking, China; and in Lucknow, Madras and Vellore, India.

MURGUIA'S DEATH BY FIRING SQUAD QUIETS MEXICO

Rebel Leader, Most Active of Obregon's Foes, Faces Bullets Bravely.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 2.—(By the Associated Press).—A more optimistic spirit regarding the general pacification of Mexico could be sensed in government circles today as the result of the execution of General Francisco Murguia, rebel leader and most active enemy of President Obregon, by a firing squad at Tepic, Jalisco, yesterday.

All suspicion that the capture of Murguia while he lay asleep in a tiny room behind the high altar of the Catholic church at Tepic yesterday night was a case of mistaken identity was scouted here. Dispatches describing the execution, which followed a hurried court martial, said the body had been exhibited at Tepic yesterday and had been recognized as that of the rebel leader by many persons, including several American miners who were well acquainted with Murguia.

HASTY TRIAL EXPLAINED. The hastiness of the court martial which decided the fate of the rebel leader shortly after his arrest was explained by the fact that it was known that Murguia was seeking legal restraints to prevent an immediate trial. In Mexico City the execution of General Murguia was regarded as the most fortunate piece of work performed by the government during the past year in its campaign to snuff out rebellious movements.

At nine o'clock yesterday morning Murguia was led over a hill population, was shot by a detail of men who had been chosen to execute the order of the court.

According to reports Murguia for the past few weeks had usually been a fugitive. Following the dispersal of his rebel band at Guadalupe, Durango, and with less than a dozen adherents remaining with him, he had been living the life of a hunted man. He was definitely located yesterday morning at Tepic, Jalisco, where an Indian maiden, friendly to the federales, slipped into the federal camp and divulged his hiding place to General Abraham Carmona, who immediately surrounded the village.

Murguia betrayed no emotion when informed that he was under arrest. Followed by excited crowds he was conducted to military headquarters where a court martial was hastily formed, under the presidency of General Miguel Llanos, who was assisted by Generals Anacleto Lopez and Pedro Sosa. Murguia is declared in the official reports to have offered little defense.

The former Carranza general received the verdict of the court calmly. Afterwards he requested

Last Pow-Wow

Centuries ago the Indians congregated on this high knoll to have their pow-wow; there they would build a great beaver fire where all in the Bay District could see it. Next Saturday evening will mark the passing of this great tract of land, for the following morning the sun will shine on the East Bay's newest subdivision, the new city of Berkeley.

Last unit of BERKELEY COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE, where homes.

As a fitting celebration there will be a huge bon-fire and three aerial bombs will be exploded announcing the opening. This marks the last great bon-fire and pow-wow ever to be held on this land. Watch for it next Saturday evening.—Advertisement.

Ex-Commissioner And Wife Are Sued

F. F. Morse, former commissioner of public health and safety, and his wife, Mrs. Kittie Morse, are made defendants in a suit for $4000 damages filed by Marcel and Noel Gaubert. It is alleged in the suit that Morse and his wife sold the plaintiffs property on Seminary avenue March 31, last, agreeing to put in all street improvements including sidewalks and sewers but that they had failed to do so. This has prevented the plaintiffs from completing homes they have built on the property in that it is impossible to make sewer connections, it is charged.

NEW FEATURES ARE ADDED TO "YANKEE PARADE"

Out-of-Town Legion Posts Will Aid to Make Show Big Success.

New features of "Yankee Parade," the American Legion Armistice Week entertainment, which opens at the Auditorium Saturday evening, were announced today. A display of bombs and fire works has been purchased and will be used nightly to indicate the opening of the doors. Notice was received yesterday that the Chamber of Commerce had arranged for the presentation of a banner to Oakland Post No. 5, American Legion, to take place Monday evening, following the presentation to Mayor Davis of an autographed photograph of Marshall Poch by the French residents.

Interest in "Yankee Parade" has spread to all parts of Central and Northern California, according to orders for tickets which are now being received. The American Legion posts in Contra Costa county, including Richmond, Walnut Creek, Martinez and Antioch, will take possession of the affair for one night.

OTHER CITIES TO AID. Assurances also have been received from the Sacramento, Stockton and San Jose posts that they

RHEUMATISM Leaves You Forever

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers the worst of all diseases and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance. ## Auto Crash Victims File Damage Suits

The damage suits as the result of a collision between an ambulance owned by the Electric Ambulance company and an automobile on Foothill boulevard near San Leandro on September 18, were filed in the superior court yesterday in both suits.

In one suit, F. Forrest, who was the driver of the ambulance, charges Frank with negligence and responsibility for the accident and asks for damages of $10,380, claiming that he received a fracture of the skull and other injuries when thrown through the windshield. The other suit is brought by M. L. Young and M. A. Mitchell, joint owners of the Electric Ambulance company, who ask for $1800 for damages to the ambulance.

Citizens of Oakland:

A dodger or circular was distributed throughout Oakland the evening before the last Primary, headed "Catholics Beware" and signed "Catholic Welfare League."

Its evident object was to create prejudice against certain candidates for county office who are of Catholic Faith.

We, the undersigned, citizens of Oakland of the Catholic Faith, denounce the entire circular as false and malicious.

THERE IS NO "CATHOLIC WELFARE LEAGUE"

This circular was not issued by any Catholic or Catholic Committee or League or Authority, or any of the candidates named therein.

Another circular or letter signed "CATHOLIC WELFARE COMMITTEE," intending to create prejudice among the voters of Oakland is now being received through the mail by people of other Faiths only. It is also false and malicious and unauthorized by any Catholic authority.

We trust that no citizen of Oakland will be misled by such un-American methods, in the event that similar false appeals should be circulated before the coming or any other election.

Baad's Comet Is
186,000,000 Miles
Away from Earth

Announcement was made by Professor A. O. Leuschner, director of the students' observatory at the University of California, that R. T. Crawford, professor of astronomy, and W. F.
Meyer, assistant professor of astrophysics, have completed the determination of the preliminary orbit of the new comet discovered by Baad on October 19.

The calculations were based on observations made by Professor Stromgren at Copenhagen, Denmark, and Doctors Alken and Neubauer at the Lick observatory. The Berkeley results have been forwarded to Harvard college observatory for international distribution.
Professors Crawford and Meyer find that the comet made its nearest approach to the sun on September 8 at a distance of 2.31 astronomical units, which correspond to 215,000,000 miles distant from the sun. On October 23 the comet was 217,000,000 miles distant from the sun and 186,000,000 miles from the earth.
The comet, which is faint and diffused, is visible only in large telescopes. It is receding both from the earth and the sun and is consequently getting fainter. Its orbit plane is inclined to that of the elliptic at an angle of 52 degrees and crosses the elliptic 219 degrees east of the vernal equinox.
The axis of the preliminary parabolic orbit points 103 degrees to the east of the point of intersection of the orbit to the elliptic.

WAR VETERANS
BOOSTING FUND

With the proceeds of the first days tabulated there is every indication that the Oakland Chapter of American War Veterans will reach the quota of $10,000, which amount of money is asked from the Eastbay district for the purpose of financing the work of the organization during the coming year according to announcements made yesterday by Daniel Lawrence, who is directing the work of six teams of volunteer workers.

The campaign will conclude with a street solicitation on Saturday when forget-me-nots will be offered the public by four hundred street workers.

Among the contributions received yesterday was $100 from the Native Sons of the Golden Gate, a Chinese organization of native sons.
It was pointed out that numerous native born Chinese were wounded and that their friends and relatives are anxious to participate in the movement to assist the disabled men.
Four hundred cans to be used by the street workers were contributed yesterday by the American Can Company.
"Forget-me-not" cards were in-sued yesterday to the various stores and business houses that have contributed toward the cause.
Further observations will be needed to determine whether the new comet is a periodic comet or whether its orbit is approximately parabolic.

STEINWAY
THE INSTRUMENT OF THE IMMORTALS

FRANK LISZT
at the Steinway

THE lover of art who aspires to own a masterpiece of painting cannot realize his dream unless he is possessed of wealth. The young violinist who longs for a Stradivarius—the masterpiece of violins —cannot hope for it if his means are modest. But the music lover who longs for a Steinway is more fortunate. Though the Steinway is the Instrument of the Immor-tals—still it can be purchased for a price and upon terms within the reach of those whose means are modest. When you buy a Steinway you know that you will never have to buy another piano. You know that it will retain its unrivaled tone perfection for a lifetime; that if Paderewski himself came to your house you would have an instrument worthy of his touch.

You may purchase a new Steinway from us with a cash deposit of 10 per cent, and the balance will be extended over a period of two years.
Used pianos accepted in partial exchange.

Prices: $925 and up

There are several Steinway styles and sizes, but only one Steinway quality.

response with this Grace Vance?"

"Yes, Judge."

"Why then were you worried about her threatening to send your letters to your lodge? Why did you write and ask her to return them?"

"I did not see any reason for bringing the whole world into our affairs," replied Dr. Moore.

"Did you tell any one about these letters?"

"Was that before you received the letter threatening to expose the correspondence?"

"Yes; I gave a phony telephone number in one of the letters. It was Dr. Anderson's phone. I asked him to take the message for me. They called up and then got scared. They nearly fell into my trap and got scared and quit."

"JUST STRINGING THINGS ALONG," DOCTOR SAYS.

"And all this time you were fooling your wife, were you?"

"Well, I don't know about that. I was just stringing things along."

Dr. Moore complained bitterly of his wife's treatment of him, both at home and when they went out together. He said that when they attended a dance his wife was satisfied as long as he danced with married women. If he chose an unmarried partner his wife would immediately begin to tell all the guests what a poor dancer he was, the doctor claimed.

Relating incidents at the house he told of a game of "hide and go seek" which he played with his wife. He testified that the family had been on an automobile trip and that on his return he carried his mother-in-law, a semi-paralytic, upstairs and returning prepared to go to a nearby service station to inflate one of the tires on his machine.

QUIZZED ON MOVEMENTS, HE TELLS COURT.

"Mrs. Moore demanded to know where I was going. I told her and she said, 'All right, I'll accompany you.' So we went down and on our return I kept my hat on when I entered the house. She kept hers on too and I walked to the kitchen, ran upstairs, came down again and went back to the kitchen. Mrs. Moore followed me everywhere, running after me when I ran. I dashed downstairs to the basement."

Principals in Divorce Case

Sketches of Dr. J. Franklin Moore, his wife and his sister-in-law, made in court by TRIBUNE artist. Three impressions of MRS. MOORE appear at the top. Below are, DR. MOORE and MRS. ANDREW MOORE, his wife's sister, who testified against him.

out the door and ran to an old chicken coop in the back yard, where I hid. Mrs. Moore came running out of the basement, stood looking around and then began a hunt for me. Not finding me she returned to the house and a few moments later I went back in and began to laugh at her. The others who were in the house and who had seen the performance all smiled. Mrs. Moore was too mad to say anything."

Asked by his counsel, Attorney John W. Lewis, as to what care Mrs. Moore took of his wearing apparel, Dr. Moore replied:

"Well, I bought a package of safety pins and put them in my bureau drawer and told me that when the buttons came off I could pin up my trousers. She also told me to get my office nurse to sew on my buttons."

ATTENDED MASQUE AS "PURITY" AND "THE DEVIL"

Another tone of levity was given to the case when Dr. Moore described masquerade costumes planned by himself and his wife. He said that Mrs. Moore was to attend the dance garbed as "the emblem of purity while I was to go as the devil." While we were getting our costumes up Mrs. Cutler, the neighbor who testified here yesterday, came into the house and remarked how appropriate the costumes were because Mrs. Moore was so sweet and I was such a devil."

Dr. Moore told of being sued by his wife for separate maintenance. He said that it appeared that they had come to a parting of the ways but that Mrs. Moore's mother interceded and effected a reconciliation. With voice fraught with emotion Dr. Moore, near the verge of tears for the first and only time during the hearing, said:

"It was breaking the old lady's heart and I was willing to forgive and forget. I tried hard to make it a go but it just could not be done."

Following this it developed that the "Grace Vance" and the "Dear Sweetie" letters, the latter said to have been written to Dr. Moore by Miss Florence Jeannie Brutan, his

"Mother Why Not Try The Newer Form Of Iron"

And Dr. Strong and Welland Have Nice Rosy Cheeks Instead of Being Nervous and Irritable All the Time and Looking So Haggard and Old?

"The doctor gave some to Susie Smith's mother and she was worse off than you are and now she looks just fine." There can be no healthy, beautiful rosy-cheeked women without iron. Good physicians have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more of the newer form of iron—Nuxated Iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard-looking patients. When the iron goes from the blood of women he roses go from their cheeks, and strength and vitality from their bodies. This newer form of iron, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in certain green vegetables, is highly recommended thousands who wish quickly to increase their strength, power and endurance. It is surprising how many people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you the proper amount of good. You don't get the strength out of it and as a consequence you become weak, pale, and sickly-looking, just like a plant trying to grow in soil deficient in iron.

You can tell the women with plenty of iron in their blood—beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women, full of life, vim and vitality. You can get Nuxated Iron from any druggist under an absolute guarantee that it will do the same for you or your money back.

NOVEL CONCERT
IN C. C. SERIES

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—The third of the Berkeley Popular Concert series planned under the auspices of the chamber of commerce will be given Saturday evening at the high school auditorium.

A novel program will be given illustrating the versatility and talent of the large coterie of musicians resident in the college city. Dorothy Pastorek, cellist, will play two cello numbers by Chopin and Bacchertini, with Suzanne Pastorek Brooks at the piano. An unusual number will be a Popper violoncello duet, rendered by Miss Pastorek and Miss Mary Sherrwood. Jack Edward Hillman will sing two groups of baritone songs. In his first group will be two numbers by Madam Mackay-Cantelli, who has devoted four years to musical study in Europe, and is now a resident of Berkeley.

Stella Stewart, pianist, who has won a host of admirers by her brilliant and sympathetic playing, will give three numbers by Chopin. Paderewski and Percy Grainger, and a concluding group by Rubinstein and Rachmaninoff.

Sister of Police Captain Injured

Miss Dottie Lynch, sister of J. Frank Lynch, captain of the Oakland police department, is today recovering from injuries which she received last night when she was run down by an automobile. She has a compound fracture of the right ankle.

According to the police report she was run down by an automobile which was driven by H. C. Morris, 1109 Terrace street. The accident occurred at Twelfth and Fulton streets. She was taken to the Emergency hospital and later removed to the Providence hospital, where she is under the care of Dr. George Reimle.

PORTLAND WILL
UNVEIL STATUE TO ROOSEVELT

Former President Depicted As Rough Rider in Oregon Tribute.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 2.—"Theodore Roosevelt, Rough Rider," is the inscription on a heroic equestrian statue of the former president, to be unveiled here Armistice day with ceremonies in which many thousands of persons are to participate.

The statue, by A. Phimister Proctor, was presented to the city of Portland by Dr. Henry Waldo Cox, a life-long friend of Theodore Roosevelt, and it is to be dedicated to the children of America. Approximately 25,000 school children of the city are to take a prominent part in the exercises. The morning program is to be devoted to the children's part of the ceremonies, with a parade, each child dropping a rose, Portland's emblem, at the foot of the statue.

BIG PARADE PLANNED.

There will be a military parade in the afternoon, with the regular army, the navy, the marines, Oregon National Guard, the Grand Army of the Republic, Spanish-American war veterans, American Legion, Boy Scouts and Sons of the American Revolution represented. Counties of Oregon and other states are to be represented by committees.

Dedicatory ceremonies will be held at the unveiling, and a message from President Warren G. Harding is to be read.

The statue is located in a park square near the heart of the city. The bronze figure stands more than 13 feet in height, placed on a pedestal of granite eight feet high.

AIDED BY FAMILY.

The Roosevelt family has taken keen interest in the work of Proctor, the sculptor, and Mrs. Roosevelt provided him with the clothing and accoutrements, including the sidearms which were worn by Colonel Roosevelt in the battle of San Juan Hill. The army selected as a model a soldier of the same stature, girth, height and weight as Colonel Roosevelt at the time he was a rough rider. After a long search for a suitable horse one was found at Palo Alto, owned by a girl student at Stanford University, and upon this horse, dressed as Roosevelt, the soldier posed daily for many months. Members of the Roosevelt family have pronounced their approval of the work of art.

Pre-Medics and Farmers in Lead

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—Pre-medical and agriculture students lead all others in comparative scholarship.

20 per cent of the men had an average scholarship below the standard.

Letters have been sent out to the deans of the various colleges showing the comparative rating of the men in their department and university. Engineering students were the lowest. In the college of letters and science, the largest and supposedly the easiest department, it is believed that keen competition between the students in the different professional courses will result from the move.

The man is wearing a dark suit jacket, a patterned vest, a white shirt, and a dark tie. He is also wearing a dark hat. He is smoking a cigarette in his right hand and gesturing with his left hand. The background is simple, with some lines suggesting a room or a street. The style is reminiscent of mid-20th-century political cartoons.

My Marriage Problems

Clara Garrison's New Phase of Revelations of a Wife

How Mother Graham Stripped the Mask from Elizabeth.

If I had not suspected Elizabeth's secret discipline of her children, masked by her pretense of governing them without coercion, I would have had the conviction of the truth reared upon me when I saw Mary's terror-stricken eyes leap to her mother's face at her grandmother's adulation.

Mrs. Harrison's own face banished whatever doubt I might have had. At her mother's words, indicating that Mary was the one responsible for the taking of the Oriental necklace, my sister-in-law set little Frederick down upon the steps and advanced a step toward the shrieking Mary with a fire that might have been cut out of a marble, and a set little smile that made me shiver, so lefty cruel did it appear to my excited imagination.

But her voice was as placid as always when she spoke, and she gazed at her fascinated by the contrast between her honeyed accents and the cruel lines in her face.

"Mary," she said sweetly, "tell mother the truth. Did you take the necklace from my box?"

The child's eyes dilated with terror, and her voice was but a whisper as she answered:

"Yes, mother, I did, but I didn't hurt it and—"

"YOU'VE POOLED EVERYBODY,"

"That isn't the question, is it, dear?" her mother replied, then she turned to her grandmother, "You, dear, mother, dear, will take a walk and talk it over."

Mary's face was white, her eyes quivered, but she moved away from her grandmother toward her mother's entrance, and I heard—

"I told myself something of a fascinated bird might have moved toward a serpent."

Mary, so directly to my room and stay there until I come. I promise you that your mother shall not punish you at all for the necklace. Run, now."

Mary needed no second adjuration. Her thin legs sped over the ground like those of a fawn, and she did not once look behind her. Mrs. Harrison took one amazed step toward her mother, but my grandmother-in-law gave her no opportunity to speak.

"You'll Not Take Mary?"

"Don't you open your mouth to me, Elizabeth," she said, and I saw that she was in one of her worst "truntnums." "Why in the world I should have a child such as you—"

"I don't know, I don't know, Richard, and Harry, I don't know, but you—you're a regular—I don't know what to call you. You've fooled everybody a long time with your moral censure and your developing a free spirit and your no coercion allowed with my children, but I've thought there was a d rick in the woodpile ever since you've been here this time, and now I know."

"Whatever you do to those children of yours to make them mind, it's something a good deal more severe than the punishments ordinary mothers hand out. It's whipping and pinching. I wouldn't be afraid to bet a cookie, but there's one thing certain, you're not going to punish Mary this trip, not while I have my right senses to prevent it."

"Of course, I leave your house with my family this afternoon," Elizabeth Harrison said, with white, stiff lips.

"Do just as you please about that," my mother retorted with regal indifference, "but you'll not take Mary with you, not until I've had a talk with William. I'm going to find out whether he knows and approves of your methods, and I'm going to leave him right now to come on home and see me."

I have seen Mother Graham peel the skin from a tomato for punishing with less effectiveness than she accomplished the stripping of her daughter's mask of composure. It was a frightened, almost childlike culprit that moved forward swiftly to clutch her mother's arm.

"Mother, you mustn't do that—mustn't tell William anything. I'll do anything you want, but—"

"I thought so. William always was a fool. He hadn't always been so kind and daffy about you, and had taken a hickory stick to you when he first married you, he'd have made something out of you. Well, at any rate, I've got some more backbone in me than you have, head now, and don't you ever believe I won't use it if I ever hear of your doing anything to one of your children that will bring a look of terror such as Mary wore this afternoon."

"Margaret, what are you daffy? Around here for Junior must have wandered off his map by this time, and somehow knows there's enough to do in the house with that ape of a Katie scene without everybody losing the time away."

And having thus administered the high justice, the middle and the low, my doughty mother-in-law moved majestically to the house, while I mentally saluted her.

MISS FOLLY

By Juanita Hamel

If we could only see the real girl behind the mask every girl wears, what dangers of distress we'd all avoid! Many a man would be fondly believing a wise though simple soul only to find out, too late, alas, that she should wear a cap and bells.

But perhaps she wears a mask behind this mask—disclosing her REAL self only to the one she loves, leaving all the rest to bemoan what, after all, is just the blind imagining of all-too-suspicious eyes.

A Plea For Studied Action

Two hall teams, made up of inmates of San Quentin, in California, played a game for the prison championship. One team was composed of negroes, the other of white men.

In the seventh inning, with the score a tie, the pitcher for the colored team, a long-term man, grew nervous under the strain. He wound up too quickly. In his haste he made wild pitches. He gave two opposing batters their bases on balls.

Over on the side lines a negro rooster raised his voice in steady words to the champion of his race:

"Tek yo' time, black boy," he clattered. "Tek yo' time! You ain't needin' to be in no hurry. You got a plenty time to win dis game in—you got nineteen years!"

Mrs. Vere Gonne (to her solicitor)—I can not imagine how the unfortunate affair has leaked out. I have certainly never said a word about it in the presence of my servants. Solicitor (dryly)—Possibly not, madam; but have you ever said a word about it in the presence of a keyhole?

THREE MINUTE JOURNALS

WHERE WEDDING PARTIES BECOME ROBBER BANDS.

In 1911 a British archipelago in the southern Pacific, some very unusual native customs are still in vogue. Among the oldest are the marriage customs.

When the daughter of the high chief of a tribe marries, she must choose the chief of another tribe for she may not marry beneath her social level if she would hold the respect of her people.

Of course, the marriage feast is a great deal of money, but it is not the chief of another tribe for she may not marry beneath her social level if she would hold the respect of her people.

The Heart of a Girl

TODAY'S SHORT STORY BY Ad Schuster

When the boys and girls of Cherrytown reached an age to suggest to parents the cultivation of grace or talent they were sent to Mrs. Wilson, who danced with them and taught them to sing and play the piano. Her home was headquarters for laughter and noise, an institution appreciated to the full by those who frequented it and regarded by parents as a convenience.

Some of the mothers, looking at Grace Wilson's frail figure, wondered how she could do so much.

"Your house," one of them said in protest, "is always in order. You do your own washing even to the sheets, and goodness knows they are hard, and with all the cooking and planning you have time for your classes. You need help."

To this suggestion, and others of the kind, Grace smiled and replied she wouldn't change her ways for the world. She pitched into the housework early in the morning that she might have the afternoon for music and dancing. When Dan, her husband, returned from work the children were gone and dinner was ready. He never complained.

Dan Wilson was not given to finding fault any more than becoming jealous. He took things as they came and asked no questions. It was this trait, perhaps, that made of him, at 35, a sleek and comfortable person who appeared five years younger than his wife.

"I'm in better luck than her way," he was fond of saying to himself. "I have never told her to teach kids to sing and I never inquire about the household arrangements. She seems to get along and that's the main thing."

To Grace Dan was still the lover, the youth with whom she had ridden behind a heavy horse on the country roads. A woman growing old with hard work and sacrifice, she was still to him a girl, a girl who loved him and really the dreams of youth. It was doubtful if she realized she was overworked; it was her part to make things easier for Dan.

The housewife earned with her classes went into the household budget and made it possible for the son and daughter to go to high school. It was Grace who planned parties for them and provided the surprise on birthdays and Christmas and it was she who was silent when her own birthday went by unobserved. She did not even see she was making them selfish.

Two strokes of fortune came to Dan within a month. A lottery and a lucky investment enabled him to purchase the street cars for an automobile and, while they did not bring wealth, brought a fair measure of prosperity. He was congratulated for a day and the neighborhood felt glad for Grace.

"The thing for you to do," said the first of the mothers to offer advice, "is to go down town and buy yourself new clothes from hats to shoes. Forget the fact that you do not have a glorious buying spree. Land knows you deserve it."

"Junior and Winifred," said Grace, "will go to college."

It was Dan's suggestion that Grace give up the washing. She didn't have to do that any more, he said, and besides it didn't look right, now to have the family's clothes hanging in the back yard every Monday.

"Take it easier," he said with a new generosity. "That's what I intend to do."

Grace did take it easier for a while and she stopped sometimes in the middle of a song to look out of the window. A remedy for this she found in the piano. She gave up the piano for a while and she stopped sometimes in the middle of a song to look out of the window. A remedy for this she found in the piano.

One day Grace Wilson announced she would enlarge her classes and take in a few smaller children in the morning. The mothers said she was so used to work that she could not stop and even Dan agreed it was not necessary.

Necessary? Perhaps the woman who had held her dreams with work and song vaguely sensed an awakening with the loss of opportunity for sacrifice. At any rate she filled her hours with music and children and guarded valiantly the heart of a girl.

WITCHES' & PIRATES' STORY

When it was time for Tom to be going down to the ring, the managers said to Tom, "If you win this fight you will be the champion of the world, and I will give you half. Tom said he would."

When Tom was down in the ring, the gang rang for the umpire to announce who the fighters were. Tom put his name as Pete, the Batter, the other fighter put his name as Bloody Dan, which the gang rang for the two fighters were going at it as never they went before. The yells were very loud, that the umpire could not give his decision. Tom did not use his strength until the last. Tom was a good dodger, so he helped him. The gang rang loud for them to retire. Soon they were at it again. Tom dodged so many times the other fighter got sore.

Tom won the fight. "MYSTERIOUS PIRATE."

A PIRATE ADVENTURE. (PRIZE STORY.)

One day my mother informed me that we were going to our home in San Francisco. Of course I turned perfectly orange under my chin with the excitement of seeing my old pals again. After three hours on the train we arrived in the S. P. depot. Knowing every spot in San Francisco my first act was to say: "Dad take us to the Palace where we're going."

The next day "the whole gang," consisting of Dalton, Ward, Margaret and Scott came over to our house. "Come in," I said. So in they came into the yard. When they were there Dad said: "Bloody what's that old house in back there?"

"Oh, that's just a sleeping porch but it's my brother's and mine now. Let's make it useful 'em on." To say I do with us. When we got there I found to my great dismay the key was lost. All of a sudden I jumped. Scott was the biggest of us all so of course he was the strongest of us. Ward was second largest. Margaret was third; Dalton was fourth, and I was smallest.

"Ward and Scott, you boost Dalton up to the broken screen near the door and Dad you open the door. This place was a jail. I said, 'In this way we got the door open. Well now we're here. Are we going to do?' "questioned Margaret. "Girls never know anything," growled Dad. "Well, more of us here. What's the key to now," said Ward. "Well, I'm up to making a secret house. 'Wow,' burst from Scott's lips.

"O if I knew what you mean, a lot of buttons. That won't mean anything," said Margaret. "Not that for Margaret," replied. "They're not all going to be fakes."

"Ain't that nice?" said Dalton, "accompany and deliver a lot that Ward let sit him. 'Insect,' shouted Scott. "Piker."

"Shut up!" I growled, "and down to business!" "All right, what do we do first?" asked Margaret. "I said, 'Well, you take this saw and take out the two lower panels of the door. I don't make a muss of it. Dad, you take your chair and drill skeletons and skulls and, oh, you make a president of the door. One—and a shrine. Scott and Margaret you come with me into the basement."

When we got there I gave Scott a bar of iron and an old pirate lantern and Margaret said: "The 'Dead' electric fixtures. At first she was afraid the yowling gave her a shock but as Margaret was a 'regular fellow' and not very easily frightened, she took them. She was ready to be in the door. 'You're a better box of fixtures heavy chain about six feet long and we ready to go. When we to the future secret house the panels were out. Now Ward took the door. 'Dad, the key ring on the floor and nail it on the hole. Put the nails on top because it going through it."

"Great Head!" said a voice there on a rafter. Dalton said: "We're in the door. 'You're a better box of fixtures heavy chain about six feet long and we ready to go. ## Uncle Wiggly Stories

UNCLE WIGGLY AND THE CRANBERRIES

It was Thanksgiving day, and Uncle Wiggly was just getting ready to go to the store to buy the little puppy dog boy the bunny rabbit gentleman day.

"Well, Jackie, I suppose I am—yes," answered the bunny, glad that the sun is shining and I'm glad that I can twinkle pink nose."

"Oh, I didn't mean that," said Jackie. "I thought you—"

Just as Jackie was saying this, the door opened and in came Nurse Jane. "What are you two doing?" she asked. "The puppy dog boy is talking to the bunny rabbit."

"What are cranberries?" asked Jackie. "They're round, red, sour berries," barked Jackie, "and you can't eat a lot of sugar on them."

"With turkey or roast chicken," added Peetie. "I hope we can get some at our home Thanksgiving."

"Oh, I think you'll have some," spoke Uncle Wiggly. "But before I go, I must hurry back and tell Nurse Jane that the puppy dog boy and the bunny rabbit are not to eat any cranberries for our Thanksgiving dinner."

"I'll hop with you," said Baby Buntie, for the store where she was going was not far from the bunny gentleman's hollow stump bungalow. On the way Uncle Wiggly told Baby Buntie how the round, red, hard cranberries grow in swamps, bogs and around Thanksgiving time and barked into a storm to be eaten with most turkey.

"Well, here's where I leave you," said Uncle Wiggly to Baby Buntie, when they had reached a place where a path led to the right and another to the left. "I'm going to take this short cut to my bungalow to tell Nurse Jane not to forget the cranberries."

Uncle Wiggly hopped down the left path, and Baby Buntie went to the right. But the bunny gentleman had not hopped very far before, all of a sudden, he heard a crashing and crackling in the dried bushes behind him and he stopped short.

"I wonder," he whispered to himself, "I wonder if that is Baby Buntie running back after me to have me tell her more about the cranberries. I wonder—"

But just then there was a louder crackling in the bushes, and, looking around, Uncle Wiggly saw the bad Bob Cat coming.

"Oh, my goodness!" cried Uncle Wiggly with a shiver of his pink nose. Instead of a twinkle, "I've got to hop faster than I ever hopped before! Oh, my goodness!"

Then the bunny began to hop, but the Bob Cat, or Lynx, with

A VISIT TO THE TEMPLE OF HARJ-PODJ.

THE ANCIENT TEMPLE OF HARJ-PODJ IN NORTH EASTERN INDIGO STILL STANDS AS ONE OF THE SEVEN BLUNDERS OF THE WORLD, AND IS A VERITABLE MECCA FOR ALL THOSE WHO LOVE LOTS OF JUNK WITH THEIR ARCHITECTURE.

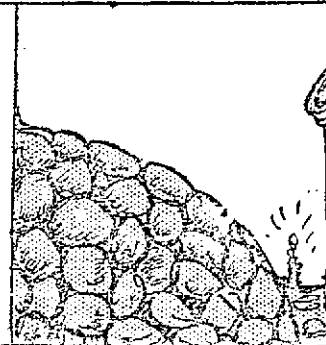

IT WAS BUILT ABOUT THE TIME OF THE FIRST MOTHER-IN-LAW JOKE AND PROF. IRVING J. TRIPHAMMER OF THE ROYAL INSTITUTE OF PHRENOLOGY CLAIMS THAT IT IS EVEN MORE ELABORATE THAN MARCUS DOUGH'S NEW MOVIE THEATRE IN NEW YORK CITY...

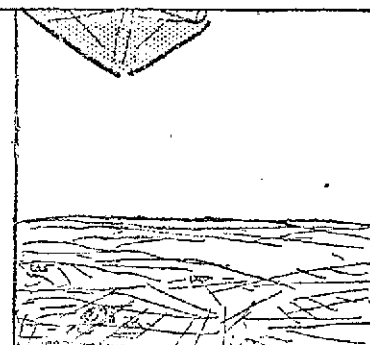

THE EAST WING IS EXTREMELY ATTRACTIVE BUT MANY PREFER THE WEST WING, WHICH OF COURSE GETS MORE OF THE AFTERNOON SUN.

THE CENTRAL "GONDOLA" OR DOME IS COMPOSED OF HUNDREDS OF RARE COBBLE-STONES THE SIZE OF HENS' EGGS ONLY LARGER, AND FROM STEM TO STERN MEASURES 300 METRES, OR IN OTHER WORDS, 9,976 1/2 INCHES AS THE CROW FLIES.

IT IS INTERESTING TO GET THE EFFECT OF THIS MAGNIFICENT STRUCTURE FROM AN AIRPLANE AS MUCH OF ITS STRUCTURAL DESIGN IS LOST, AND THE WHOLE TEMPLE BLENDS MORE OR LESS EASILY INTO THE LANDSCAPE.

the tassels of hair on his ears, had seen the bunny and came skipping along after him.

"Wait a minute! Wait a minute!" howled the Bob Cat. "I want to nibble your ears!"

"But I don't want you to!" said Uncle Wiggly, and he hopped on.

Bob Cat was running very fast also, and he had almost caught up to Uncle Wiggly when, all of a sudden, the bunny reached a marshy, swampy place where the ground was part water and part mud.

Before Uncle Wiggly could stop himself he was stuck in the mud, which came almost to his waist.

"Oh, this is terrible!" sighed the rabbit gentleman. "The Bob Cat will surely get me now!"

Uncle Wiggly pulled and pulled on his legs trying to get them out of the muck, and as he did, something struck him on his pink nose. He looked to see what it was and saw that on many bushes growing near him were a lot of round, dark red, hard berries.

"Oh, they're cranberries!" cried Uncle Wiggly. "I've stumbled into a cranberry bog! I'm stuck in it, and soon the Bob Cat will come to get me. Oh, but I know what I can do!"

Uncle Wiggly began gathering his paws full of the hard round cranberries, which were like bullets. On came the Bob Cat, crashing his way through the bushes.

"Where are you? Where are you that I may nibble your ears?" howled the Bob Cat to Uncle Wiggly.

"Here I am, but you aren't going to nibble my ears!" said the bunny.

"Why not?" snarled the Bob Cat, standing on the edge of the bog.

"Because of these cranberries!" cried the rabbit uncle.

With that Uncle Wiggly threw one paw full after another of the hard bullet cranberries at the Bob Cat.

"Bing! Bang! Bung!" the cranberries hit the Bob Cat on his nose.

"Oh, wow!" howled the bad chap. "I didn't know Uncle Wiggly had a gun. Oh, I'm shot!"

And turning tail away ran the Bob Cat, no longer stung by the hard cranberries. And when the Bob Cat was gone and Uncle Wiggly wasn't so excited, the bunny managed to pull himself out of the muck, and he hopped to his bungalow.

"I'm pretty dirty," he said to Nurse Jane, "but I found out where we can get cranberries for Thanksgiving."

"That's good," said the muskrat lady. "And if the ice man doesn't call so late that there are no snowballs to throw for breakfast, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly's bath tub."

WOMEN HELD FOR THEFTS

Muriel Barrington and Gertrude Stiles, who recently confessed to committing more than 200 burglaries in the Bay district, were held to answer to the Superior Court today by Police Judge Gannon of Hayward, sitting for Police Judge Tyrell.

The young women were arrested at their home, 5816 Shattuck avenue. The specific case involved in the preliminary hearing today was the robbery of the home of R. S. Chase, in the Wayne apartments, Twenty-eighth and Telegraph. Bail for each of the women was fixed at $4000.

Several grand opera phonograph records and a small typewriter were among the articles stolen from the Chase home. Mrs. Chase today said the young women were the same two she had seen knocking on the door of a neighboring apartment the day the robbery occurred.

Mrs. Chase was cross-examined by Attorneys Myron Harris and L. A. Sullivan. She was unable to describe how the two girls were dressed.

CARTER PUTS OUT ANSWER

Taking counter-offensive measures in reply to the barrage laid down yesterday by City Auditor Harry Williams, Commissioner Albert E. Carter today defended the public works department against the Williams charge that "certain departments are lax in taking advantage of the discount for cash payments" and that the "harbor department could have saved some money."

Carter asserts that the account referred to was not yet completed and the materials not fully delivered; therefore payment is not yet due.

Williams, in his letter to the city council yesterday, observed that the city departments should be quick in their payments and take advantage of all cash discounts, saving the city this money. He suggested a punishment for departments which are lax and specifically mentioned a bill incurred by the harbor department, to which Carter makes the following reply to the council:

The material referred to in Auditor Williams' letter of November 1st was requisitioned on July 15, 1922. According to Mr. Williams' interpretation, the bill for this material should have been checked and paid before August 10, 1922. The first shipment of this material arrived August 26, 1922, and constitutes approximately 3 per cent of the entire order.

Mr. Williams evidently recommends payment of bills before the material is even received. I do not believe any business man would consider such a proposition.

U. of C. Will Stage Flapper Of About Two Decades Ago

Berkeley Maids Will Attest Presence of Old-Time Flapper at Farce to Be Staged Saturday.

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—Were flappers twenty years ago? University of California maids will attest the fact that there were on Saturday morning when the annual junior farce is presented by university thespians. The farce, "Flapping Thru," is a satire on college life. The evolution of the flapper from the days of "putt" sleeves and gored skirts to the present will be portrayed.

To Miss Lois Munn and Miss Marion Coe, two members of the Phi Beta Phi sorority, will fall the task of "showing up" the dapper of by-gone generations. "Flapping Thru" will be one of the many features planned for the annual Junior Day on the campus when third-year students will dominate university activities. At night, the junior "prom" in Harmon gymnasium will terminate the day's festivities.

Strikers Preparing to Leave Hetch Hetchy

MODESTO, Nov. 2.—The strikers on the Hetch Hetchy project are still out and no attempt has been made to replace them. The major part of the strikers have left, and those who are still there are preparing to leave, it is understood, for the management has demonstrated it does not intend to accede to their demands.

The work on the Moccasin Creek power house has been entirely shut down. The other work is proceeding slowly with a greatly curtailed working force. The work at the dam proper and the saw mill was not affected by the strike.

FIRE LIMITS EXTENDED

The promised extension of the Oakland downtown fire limits became an accomplished fact today. The city council passed to print an ordinance which will include the tract between Twentieth, Twenty-eighth, San Pablo and Telegraph within the fire limits.

The line runs 100 feet west of the westerly line of Grove, thence 100 feet west of San Pablo to Twenty-eighth, thence to a point 100 feet west of Telegraph and along this line to Twentieth, where it returns to San Pablo.

The council was requested by C. F. Carr to give the regular permission to place Christmas trees on electrolite from December 14 to January 3, and appropriate $100 per wire, firing of barns and haystacks and other depredations. He

I. W. W. "Dialect" Heard At Local Syndicalism Trial

Strange words and phrases included in the polyglot dialect of the underworld were heard this afternoon by the jury listening to evidence in the criminal syndicalism trials in Judge Samuels' court.

Elbert Coute, confessed I. W. W., a witness for the state talked glibly of "high-jacking," "scissor-bills," of "jungling," "sab-cattin'" and a myriad of other queer terms. Explaining his meaning under cross-examination Courts told of his life and actions. He said for several years he was engaged in "sab-cattin'." This he said meant trips made by I. W. W. for the purpose of committing sabotage of various kinds.

These activities included a desperate attempt to burn down the town of Modesto, he said. Other "sab-cattin'" in which he took part included thefts of copper wire, firing of barns and haystacks and other depredations. He said that he and other I. W. W. members placed cyanide of potassium in water destined for the streets of Modesto.

"Scissor-bills" were defined as strike-breakers and he said a favorite diversion for the I. W. W. was to place lye in the shoes of the "scissor-bills," this being designed to cripple the men and ruin the shoes, both at the same time. Courts admitted to serving a term in San Quentin from 1913 to 1915, having been convicted in Oakland for the theft of copper wire. On leaving the prison he begged for a while, he said, and then took up with other crowd of I. W. W. and took up "high-jacking."

"And what does that mean," asked J. H. Dolsen, one of the defendants, who is conducting the case for the defense.

"Why that's highway robbery," replied the witness.

MUST SERVE DOUBLE TIME

Alameda, Nov. 2.—Prisoner faith with Judge L. R. Weinmann, Alameda police judge, by failing to serve a jail sentence of two days imposed upon him on a charge of reckless driving last June, resulted in Francis Lilley, 1085 Fifty-fourth street, Oakland, being sentenced to serve five days in jail by the judge today.

Lilley, according to the police, asked clemency when he was found guilty of reckless driving, declaring his circumstances did not warrant his paying a fine. Judge Weinmann then sentenced him to two Sundays in jail. Lilley, it is claimed, left town without completing his sentence. Upon his return to the Bay region, he was arrested in Oakland by Andrew Peterson of the Alameda police force.

ARTIST IN SHOW

State Landscape Wins Prize At Exhibition Held By Chicago Institute.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—(By The Associated Press)—A purely decorative subject a still life group by Frank W. Benson of Salem, Mass., furnished the surprise of the thirty-fifth annual exhibition of American paintings and sculpture which opened this afternoon at the Chicago Art Institute, by winning the coveted Frank G. Logan gold medal and $1500 prize.

The selection featured the placing of the 340 pictures and pieces of sculpture selected from the more than 800 nominations.

John Singer Sargent of Boston, many of whose portraits have featured past exhibitions here, won the second award, his full length portrait of "Mr. Saxton" taking the Potter Palmer Gold Medal.

William Wendt, Laguna Beach, California, was awarded $1000 for his landscape "Lifted Nine Eyes Unto the Hills".

Rich Greens of California's Rolling Meadows, set off with the deep purple of new ploughed fields led in a great, sweeping perspective to the dark blue of the distant hills beneath a cloud flecked sky.

"The Expulsion," by Eugene F. Savage, of Ossining, N. Y., a rather conventional version of the banishment of the first sinners from Eden, won the Norman W. Elmer silver medal and $500 prize.

One of the features of the exhibition of sculpture is three wood carvings by John L. Clark, a deaf and dumb Indian living in Glacier National Park, Clark, the story is told here, runs, was discovered by Louis Hill, son of the railroad builder carving a grizzly bear out of a tree.

His pieces in this year's exhibit include a mother bear and cub leaning against a tree, and a puma on the stalk and a puma and grizzly about to engage in mortal combat.

Guests at Party

A surprise party and entertainment was held at the home of H. H. H. and Maxine last evening following the closing of the door for the day. The occasion was the birthday anniversary of the institution, with more than 100 guests and employees present.

Supper was served to the department buyers on the mezzanine floor, presided over by Mrs. S. Noah, mother of the H. H. H. brothers, and guests of honor.

Cash prizes were awarded Mrs. V. Hagaman, Miss Alice Larson and Miss Leta B. Letter, winners of an animated selling contest. The prizes were based on points of courtesy, enthusiasm, knowledge of merchandise and general salesmanship.

A vaudeville program with seven songs was staged on the second floor by the employees. A score of prizes were awarded for some time. Brief addresses given by guests in honor of the anniversary event completed the program.

EL CERRITO, Nov. 2.—The district attorney of this county is waiting the complete recovery of Mrs. E. J. Flannery before making a charge of murder against her for the shooting late yesterday of her eleven-months' old baby. After shooting the child, Mrs. Flannery attempted to take her own life by shooting herself through the lungs, but physicians attending her declare she will recover.

"I shot the baby to keep them from taking it away from me," said Mrs. Flannery. She stated that she feared insanity and that she would be committed to an asylum, rather than this she determined to end the lives of herself and baby.

Mrs. Flannery is the wife of a Bravely policeman.

PROSPERITY IS ENTERED BY U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 2.—(By The Associated Press)—The United States has emerged from the gloom of depression and entered upon a period of wonderful normal prosperity lasting four or five years—the like of which none of us has ever seen," U. S. Secretary of Commerce, J. C. Davis, declared today.

He asserted that in 1921, there were 3,000,000 wage earners without employment. Jobs have been found for all these, and in addition 30,000 more jobs are awaiting men—but the men are not available.

Asked for his view on a "living wage," he declared "The most expensive labor in the world is slave labor. The next most expensive labor is the untrained and unskilled worker. The American wage earner is the highest paid and yet the cheapest labor in the world."

Hennings said the standard was not only a "living wage" but a "savings wage"—a sum sufficient "so the laborer can save a little and enjoy the sweet experience of ownership."

GASOLINE MAKES A LIVING TORCH OF WORKMAN

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 2.—Turned into a living torch when he fell asleep at a lantern and a gasoline lamp, a resident of Ventura county, was burned to death before the eyes of his fellow workmen on the night shift at the Henshaw dam construction job.

While filling the fuel tank on the engine of the compressor he operated, although there was an electric light directly over the man.

The first learned of his plight when they saw him dash away in the darkness, all aflame.

Roof Taken From Sick Man, He Says

ALAMEDA, Nov. 2.—A man who was taken to the hospital for a building he had rented from the Oakland Laundry Company, Morris Frankel, a junk dealer, has instituted suit for damages of $5000 against the laundry company.

Frankel, who has rented a barn at 730 Twenty-ninth street from the Oakland Laundry Company in January, 1919. On January 11, last, he was injured in a fall from the roof of the barn.

As a result $600 worth of junk disappeared and the rest deteriorated in value when it came out from under the suit.

fun today. Here are a few of the questions that came in:

"What is the best method for removing the crust of lime that accumulates on the inside of a teakettle?"

"Use vinegar or weak acid. Let the kettle stand in the kettle for several hours or heat it in the kettle."

"Is a city fireman exempt from paying personal, income and dog tax?"

"A fireman is not exempt from any kind of taxes, except U. S. income tax."

"When was suffrage granted to English women?"

"In November, 1918. The law applies to women of thirty."

"Who was Helen Penrose?"

"She was U. S. senator from Pennsylvania for four terms and a Republican party leader. He died December 31, 1921."

"What do the letters P.P.C. on a calling card signify?"

"They mean 'Pour Prendre Conscience,' or to take leave."

CABINET MEMBER HERE MONDAY ON INSPECTION TRIP

Secretary of Labor Davis Will Be C. of C. Guest At Hotel Oakland.

James T. Davis, Secretary of Labor in President Harding's cabinet and now touring the west, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon to be given at the Hotel Oakland Monday.

The Oakland Chamber of Commerce, assisted by the local branch of the Specialty Salesmen, will act as host.

While on the coast, Secretary Davis will inspect the Immigration Station at Angel Island. He will arrive in Oakland shortly before noon and will remain in this city until evening.

At the luncheon, Harrison S. Robinson, vice-president of the chamber of commerce, and Lee Bechtell, president of the Specialty Salesmen, will represent those two organizations. It is announced that Mayor Davis will give the address of welcome. A. Vander Naal also will make a few remarks.

Secretary Davis will be introduced by Charles A. McGee, past supreme of the Local Order of Moose, in which city Davis is chairman of the board of regents.

A conference between Secretary Davis and Moose officials will take place at the Moose club here Monday afternoon.

One of the members of the reception committee at the Moose club will be M. J. Kelly, superintendent of the U. S. Mint in San Francisco, who worked with Davis as a puddler in a Pittsburgh rolling mill when both were young men.

Col. Irish Praises Japanese in State

By CLARENCE DUBOSE, United Press Staff Correspondent.

TOKYO, Nov. 2.—The Japanese in California are doing a splendid job, according to Colonel John P. Irish, of Oakland, now a visitor here.

In speeches and interviews in Tokyo Irish has stoutly defended the Japanese in California. His utterances are being widely quoted in a tremendous hit with the Japanese press and people, who have hailed him as one of the great Americans.

Irish declared that the California and American newspapers which "print anti-Japanese lies, refuse to publish the facts."

In one speech, after praising California Japanese highly, he asserted that Californians are "rapidly realizing that Japanese labor in California is an economic necessity."

He declared furthermore that if the Japanese should leave certain farm sections of California "it would go back to a desert."

Today the Hawaiian Islands were discovered and quizzed by Marshall Perella.

"What I do for?" parried James. "I see my duty was telling me what a regular out was when he was a kid and how he used to be just like that, so I thought that he did it and I pulled the same thing."

This eloquence won freedom for the youth but not without a warning.

Harding Passes 57th Natal Day In Routine Work

Messages of congratulation from all parts of the country and of the world were stacked high on President Harding's desk today celebrating him on his 57th birthday anniversary. The President spent the day quietly. The only special privilege he allowed himself was a reduced engagement list of callers. He spent the morning with Mrs. Harding, going over to his office at noon for the day.

Two years ago today, Harding celebrated his 55th birthday watching returns which elected him President by the largest majority ever given a presidential candidate.

At the luncheon, Harrison S. Robinson, vice-president of the chamber of commerce, and Lee Bechtell, president of the Specialty Salesmen, will represent those two organizations. It is announced that Mayor Davis will give the address of welcome. A. Vander Naal also will make a few remarks.

PROPELLER TORN FROM DESTROYER AS SHIPS CRASH

Decatur will be Tied Up Another Week as Result of Mishap.

MAINE ISLAND, Nov. 2.—While the U. S. S. Trocyer was being placed alongside the navy yard seal wall late Tuesday afternoon she crashed into the stern of the destroyer Decatur, moored at the seawall. The fatal and port propeller of the destroyer were damaged by the collision, and the accident will delay the sailing of the Decatur for a week or more.

TOK

STUDENT BODY CAMPAIGNS TO KEEP BARROWS

Petitions Circulated, Readily Signed; Next Move Is Up to U. C. Regents.

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—President David P. Barrows of the University of California, the center yesterday of the most unusual demonstration ever held on the college campus, departed this morning for a tour of eastern colleges.

Although deeply grieved by the mark of affection shown for him by the 10,000 students who gathered in an impromptu rally beneath the windows of his offices in California hall, Dr. Barrows refused, however, to discuss his future plans.

That whatever his feelings are, personally, Dr. Barrows cannot express himself unless the regents reopen the matter of his resignation was the declaration of close friends today. Students at the university have also taken the attitude that the next move in the present situation must be taken by the regents, and to that end are gathering in fifteen or more petitions placed in circulation today asking that the college heads prevail upon Dr. Barrows to reconsider his resignation.

5318 SIGN PETITION Student leaders, in a preliminary checking up of names on the petitions to the regents this morning found the total reached 5,318. A number of petitions are still in circulation and an almost unanimous student body is expected to sign the documents. Presentation of the petition to the regents late today or tomorrow is planned.

That students will not allow their efforts toward the reinstatement of Dr. Barrows lapse with yesterday's rally was evidenced today by the columns of the "Daily Californian," student paper, which were filled with plans for the retention of the university executive.

"The campaign is on!" was the challenge flung forth this morning from the pen of Editor Robert R. Coombs of the Daily Californian. Coombs said further:

"Yesterday's sudden outburst, phenomenal as it was, is only the beginning of a determined movement to which examples should be the only possible conclusion. The students have risen as one to bid the Regents and the President to reconsider."

"The long smoldering sentiment which has been broken with the force of an explosion is not to be considered lightly. No! will never be taken as an answer so long as a single stone remains unturned. California's great student population is determined to finish what it has so gloriously begun."

"Interest and enthusiasm cannot slacken now, for the time is ripe and the goal a possibility. While California has President Barrows, a tenacious grip upon him must be held—vice-like—unrelenting."

"The efforts now being spent in finding a successor should be diverted to the campaign of the administration of the University to fit the needs of so great an institution and to enable it to hold a great leader when it has one. It is evident that the students know when the time has come and for that reason they are justified in going the limit to enforce their rights."

"If it is, as many of the prominent alumni believe, that executive assistance should be introduced into the system as vice-presidents, then by all means let action be started to bring this about."

"Not the University lose this man in the student body, let us move to reconsider Dr. Barrows and the remodeling of the administration start simultaneously. Should these two things come about there is no telling what great things the future holds for the University of California."

"The campaign, then, is on."

BARROWS OVERCOME The throng of students which gathered yesterday in front of California hall and joined in songs and cheers for the president so touched Dr. Barrows according to those close to him, that it was several minutes before he could reply to the cheers. Then with a husky voice, his throat still choked, he made reply:

"I have had many experiences in my life, most of them pleasant, but I have never had an experience that made me quite so thrilled as this meeting with you this morning does. I am profoundly touched by your friendship. It is among the most precious things I have."

"I do not want any of you to feel that because I have resigned the office of president of this university I think it is a poor office. It is a glorious office. The finest thing connected with, the thing that makes it really unique among American colleges, is the fact that by long tradition it is a position of close intimacy with the student body."

"I am going away tomorrow for a few weeks. My trip east is just the usual trip that the president makes in the fall. . . . Then I am coming straight home. I have denied every other opportunity, so that I might be with you here in these days when our great loyalty is expressed, the great days that attach themselves to our annual game with Stanford. I would not miss being with you on that day for anything in the world!"

"I am going to be with you soon again. I mean I thank you. God bless you!"

CIVILIAN'S JOIN DRIVE. Joining with students in their plea that Dr. Barrows be retained today was the Berkeley Fellowship of Churches, including pastors and laymen of sixteen religious institutions of the college city. At a meeting held at Knox Presbyterian church, petitions were signed for presentation to the regents asking that efforts be made to retain President Barrows. Signing the petitions were:

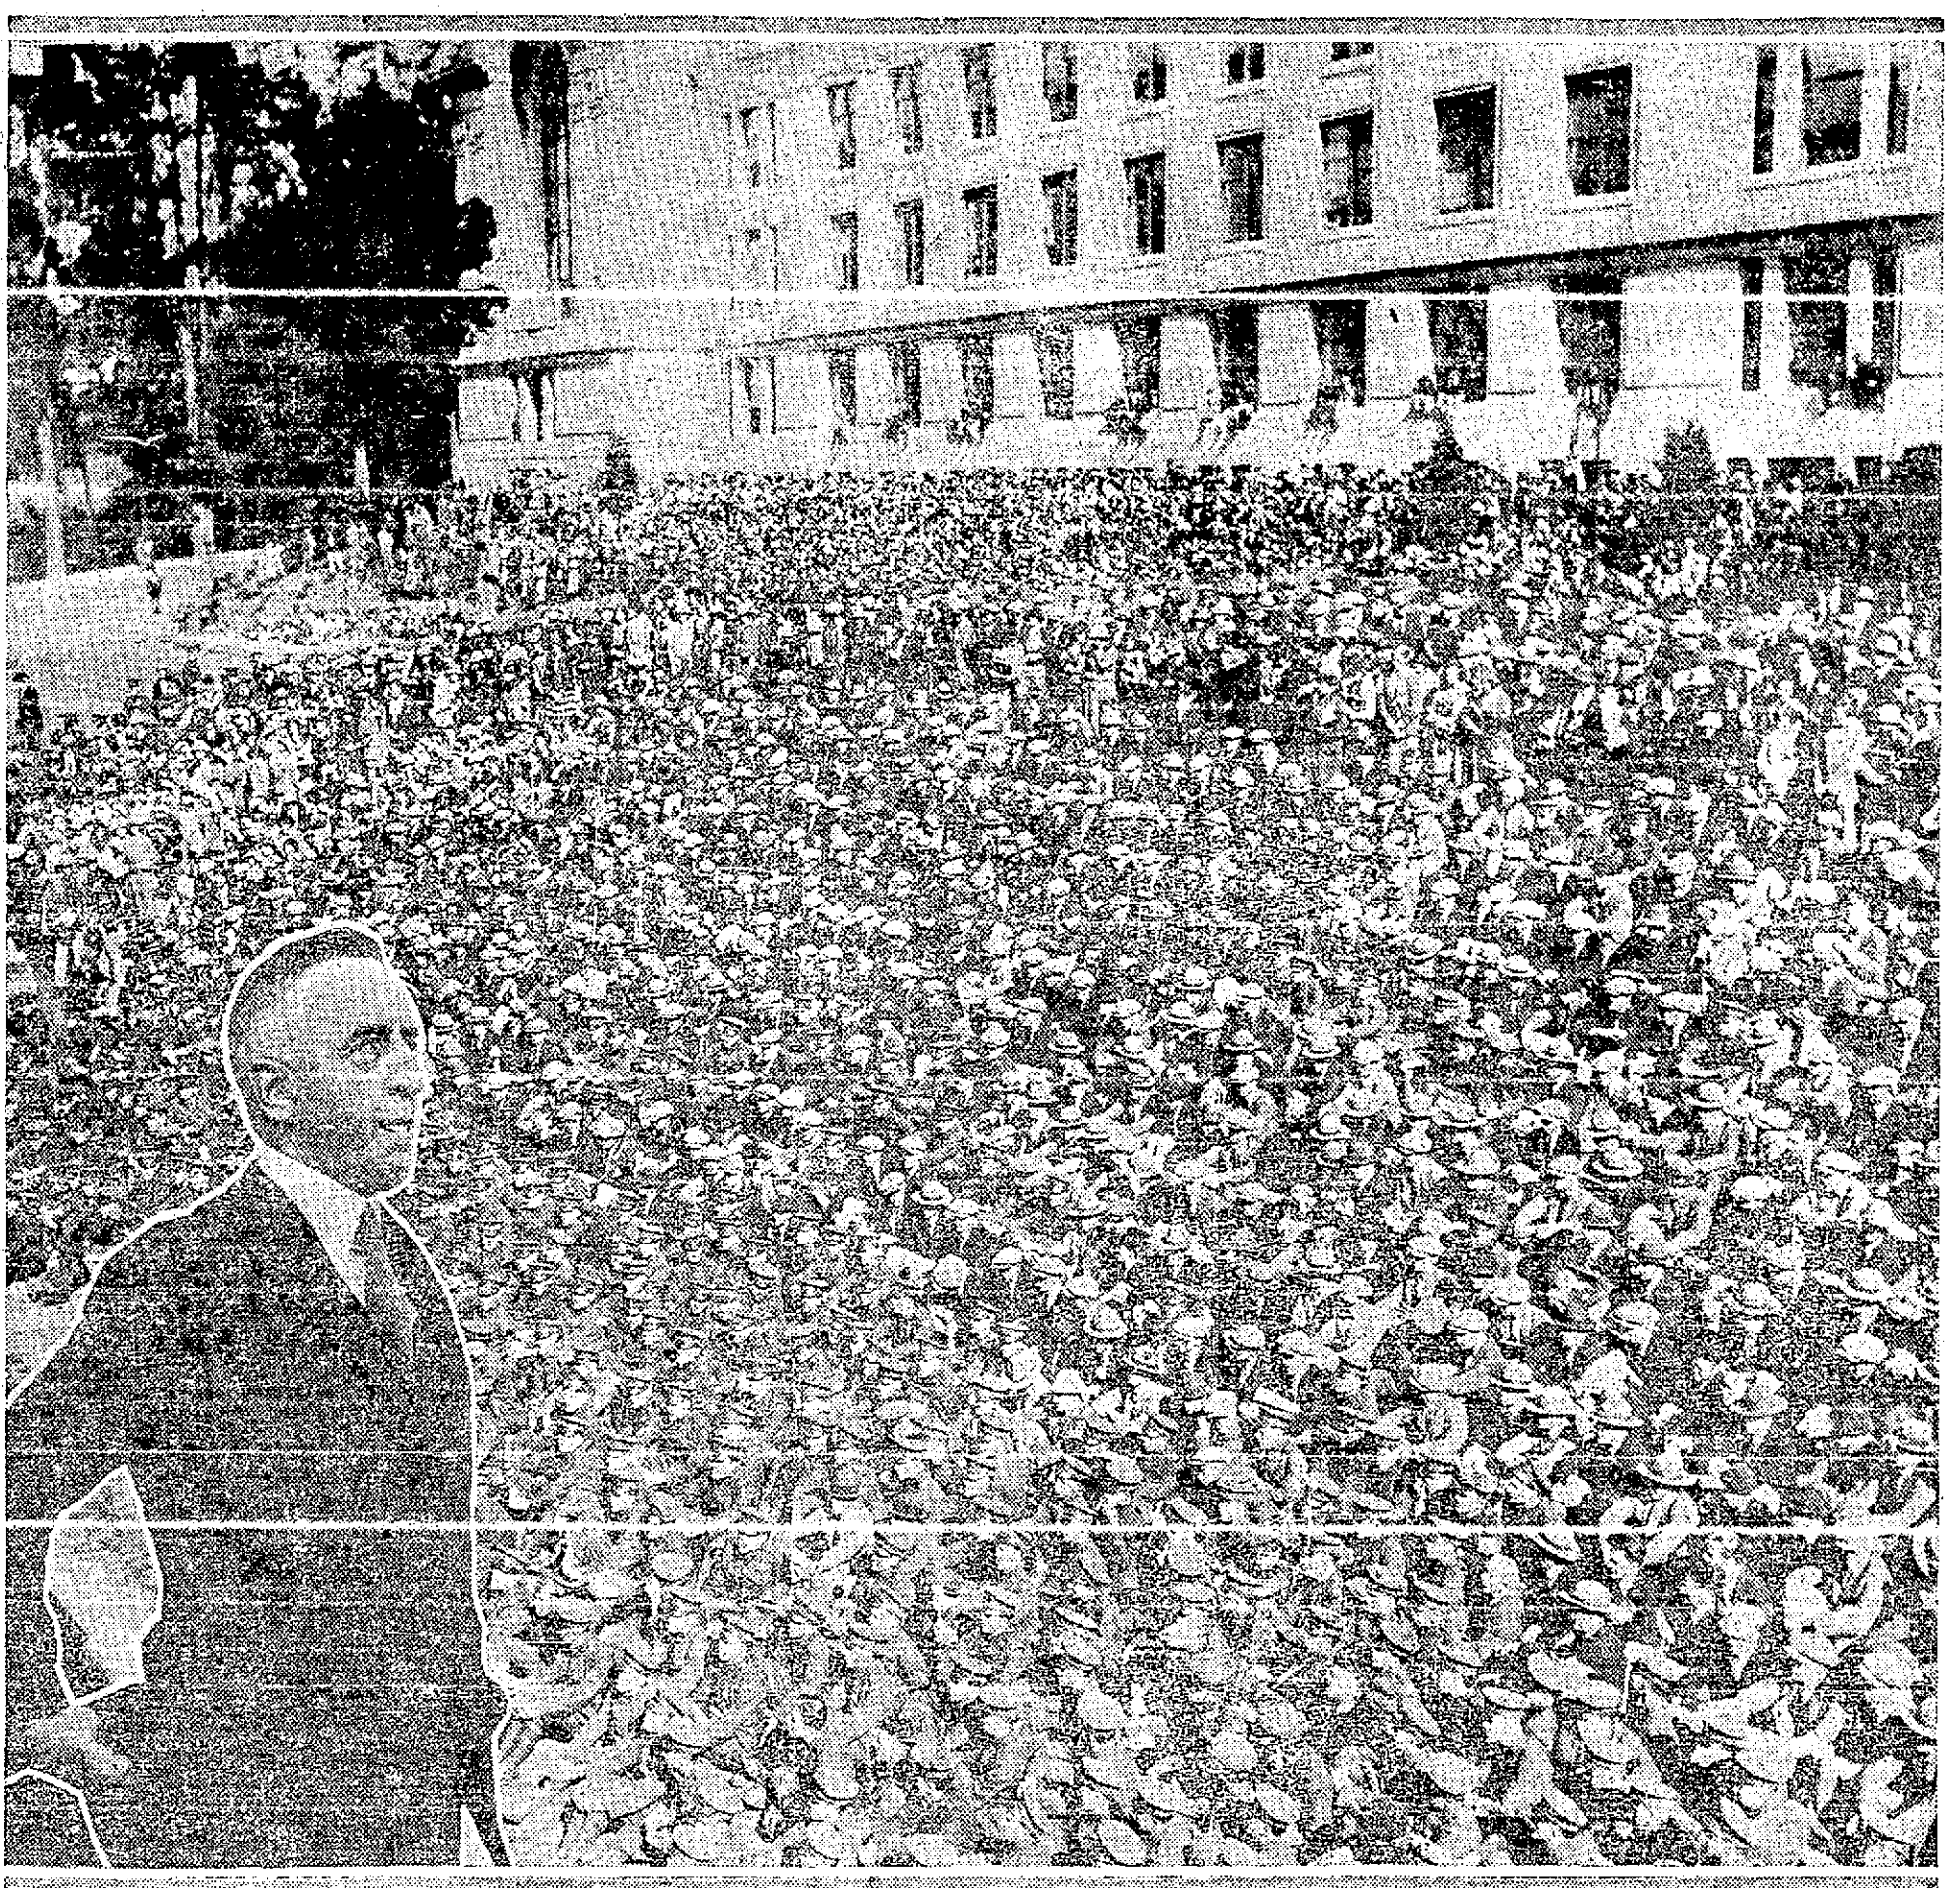

Dr. Frank S. Brush, pastor of the Northbrae Community church; Dr. E. P. Bennett, pastor of the First Methodist church; Rev. W. H. Hodgkin, rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church; Dr. R. B. Larkin, pastor of the North Congregational; Rev. F. Augustus Martyn, vicar of St. Clement's Episcopal church; Dr. E. A. Hanley, pastor of the First Baptist church; Rev. Oswald W. S. McCall, pastor of the First Congregational church; Dr. L. A. McAfee, pastor of the First Presbyterian church; Rev. Bruce H. McDonald, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian church; Rev. Moffett Rhodes, pastor of Edworth Methodist church; Rev. E. B. Davis, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian church; Rev. St. John's Presbyterian church; Rev. T. A. Storey, pastor of First Methodist church; Rev. R. C. Gray, pastor of the Nazarene church; D. V. Davendorf, Y. M. C. A. secretary at Stiles Hall; John Berzern, secretary Berkeley Y. M. C. A.; Dr. B. J. Morris, director of religious education at Trinity Methodist church; Rev. Clifford Drury, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church; Dr. H. C. Milnes, superintendent of M. E. conference.

TUBE OR BRIDGE SEEN AS F. NEED

Expressed jubilation over the remarkable advancement of Oakland and the desire necessity for a comprehensive survey and plan for the further development of the city were the outstanding features of the meeting of the Oakland Real Estate Board at the Key Route Inn last night.

Oakland is not enjoying a boom, but is expanding in a steady, sturdy and natural way, according to the consensus of opinion of the real estate operators gathered to discuss their program for the winter, as well as to prepare for the active participation of the city at the Cleveland real estate convention.

George F. Colwell, former mayor of Seattle and now port commissioner in that city, and Joseph R. Knowland, publisher of THE TRIBUNE, delivered the two addresses of the evening. Frank Pitt Porter, president of the Oakland Real Estate Board, was toastmaster.

ADVANTAGES ARE TOLD. Both speakers entered on the advancement of Oakland and pointed to the natural advantages of the city and prophesied great things for the future. The Real Estate Board was complimented as a unit by Knowland for its participation in civic affairs at the conclusion of its address.

Cottrell told the story of Seattle's waterfront, and how the civic leaders of that municipality overcame all obstacles to the improvement and advancement.

"In order for Seattle to build her municipal waterfront the civic leaders were forced to go to great lengths," said Cottrell. "It was finally found necessary to secure the passage of a law creating a harbor district separate and distinct from the city and yet bounded by the same boundary lines as the city."

"This was imperative because we could not have a harbor district which was formed by the work was comparatively small. The cost of the project was $10,000,000."

"Eight million dollars were expended on the building of the municipal waterfront. A large sum of money, but one that was justified. During the four years of war Seattle realized from her waterfront in toll for wharfage and dockage, $500,000 a year."

"This means that Seattle, through the expenditure of $8,000,000 for a municipal waterfront, gained during four years alone the sum of $5,000,000. This money was put back into the project in the way of improvements, and the city's waterfront now represents an investment of $10,000,000."

"It is important to consider that this waterfront does not interfere with private enterprises. The private development of terminals continues as in the past. As a matter of fact, between sixty and seventy-five per cent of the commerce of Seattle goes over private terminals and the city is still profiting."

Cottrell vigorously endorsed the free zone plan and said that immediately Congress passed the measure, the city of Seattle will prosper.

NOTICE! You are invited to the big Pow-Wow and bon-fire in honor of the formal opening of the second and last unit of BERKELEY COUNTRY CLUB TERRACE, Saturday evening, November 4th. Listen for the three aerial bombs which will announce to Oakland, Berkeley and San Francisco that this beautiful tract is now open to home-seekers and investors. As the flames from the huge fire mount high into the skies it will mark the location of the largest subdivision in the East Bay District.

Oakland's Rapid Growth Cited as Survey Need

there would have been, under ordinary circumstances, some basis for this view.

"But when the situation confronted us, it failed to cause a ripple on the financial surface. We have ever more striking evidence of the stability of a community—the solid footing upon which we stand."

Knowland then outlined the aspects of the city, enumerating the twenty-seven miles of available harbor, the large areas of industrial land, the climate, the available acreage for homes and the rail and road facilities for dealing with the world markets.

"Such a survey should cover an analysis of the advantages of the city to trade lines and markets from which commerce may be expected to develop; port charges in relation to other harbors; facilities needed to meet industrial development; dock construction at the largest harbors and the consideration of innumerable other questions necessary for the most scientific harbor development."

"I feel that before we proceed with the expenditure of additional large sums for harbor development this information is highly essential. We should urge it upon our city officials who are anxious to proceed along the right lines looking to the community's welfare."

The government has ordered a new survey of depths and widths in the harbor. A plan for the city is no less essential than a plan for the harbor."

One of the entertainment features of the meeting was the vocal selections of the new glee club headed by Charles Lloyd. Miss Ruth Frances Corrigan was the accompanist.

POLICE HUNT DRIVER Who Ran Down Boy

ALAMEDA, Nov. 2.—Alameda police are searching today for the driver of a car which is alleged to have struck seven-year-old Jack Lohan, 1605 Oak street, while the child was crossing the street at Eagle avenue and Park street yesterday afternoon.

According to the report made to the police, the driver of the car took the injured boy to his home and left him without leaving any name or ascertaining the extent of the boy's injuries.

The child was removed to the Emergency Hospital where he was treated by Dr. Arthur Hironomus for possible internal injuries and severe shock.

Prank Disturbs Berkeley Y. M. C. A.

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—A belated Halloween prank last night threw the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. into consternation.

Dense clouds of smoke filled the "Y" building at Allston way and Mylva street shortly after 9 o'clock. Members fled from their rooms and the fire department was called. An investigation revealed a wooden bucket placed on the top of the chimney on the roof of the building.

Members of the Kappa Phi Alpha sorority were roused from their rooms at the chapter house, 2616 Channing way, at 9:45 o'clock this morning by smoke which filled the house. The fire department discovered that a new chimney, installed as a result of a serious fire at the house several months ago, had become blocked. No damage was done.

Five Mysterious Autoists Sought

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—Five men who were passengers in a mysterious automobile which became stuck in the mud at Grove and Cedar streets, where the latter thoroughfare is being repaired, are being sought by the police. Leslie Barhy, 1709 Stuart street, said he saw the men acting in a suspicious manner. One of them dropped a loaded revolver which Barhy later picked up and turned over to the police. He declared that all the men appeared to be under the influence of liquor.

BERKELEY DORMITORY Sites in Demand

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—A survey of the most desirable sites for student dormitories is being conducted by an undergraduate dormitory committee. It is the aim of the students to solve the problem of finding a location which will provide easy access to the academic center of the campus and, at the same time, afford a homelike atmosphere.

Method of financing the erection of dormitories through a student campaign will be taken up and worked out in detail as soon as the survey has been completed.

Child Hostess at Hallowe'en Party

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—A children's party was given recently by little Ethel's aunt, Mrs. J. A. Harris, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lauterbach, 2234 Ninth street, Berkeley. The large table was decorated with Hallowe'en favors, and things to eat. An enjoyable evening was spent in singing, playing games and other amusements. The children were in Hallowe'en costume. Among those present were: Lucille Golden, Mildred Burt, Margaret Copeland, Philomena Jordana, Dugmar Loebs, Hendrena Jankowsky, Eliza Lavigne, Muriel O'Brien, Angelina Jordana, Violet Steeves, Charlotte Jankowsky, Ruth Helsten, Helma and Julie Siren, and the hostess, Mrs. and Mrs. Christian Hoff, Mrs. Weidinger, Mrs. Carrie Lavigne, and Mrs. Louise Wright.

BERKELEY DORMITORY Sites in Demand

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—A survey of the most desirable sites for student dormitories is being conducted by an undergraduate dormitory committee. It is the aim of the students to solve the problem of finding a location which will provide easy access to the academic center of the campus and, at the same time, afford a homelike atmosphere.

Method of financing the erection of dormitories through a student campaign will be taken up and worked out in detail as soon as the survey has been completed.

Tube Question TO COME UP IN COUNCIL TONIGHT

Alameda City Attorney Believes Obstacles to Bore Can Be Eliminated.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 2.—The Alameda City Planning Commission, at its meeting tonight in the council chamber at the city hall, will take under consideration recent issues at stake in the matter of constructing a tube under the Oakland estuary to replace the present bridge at Webster street.

City officials as well as the commission many months ago voiced their preference for a subway instead of a bascule bridge to replace the present structure spanning the estuary, which must be removed by July 1, 1923, according to a ruling of the War Department.

Interested Alamedans were of the opinion that plans to construct a tube were progressing favorably when they were confronted by the announcement from the Board of Supervisors that, owing to a conflict in the law, work on the project must undergo a delay.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM SEEN. William J. Locke, city attorney of Alameda, associated with inquiries regarding the legal tangle. After a careful study of the situation, Locke declares he feels there is no cause for alarm. He points out that proceedings under the Tube Act of 1911 provide for the formation of a commission composed of the mayors of Oakland and Alameda and the chairman of the board of supervisors.

The commission recently unananimously recommended in 1914 making the handling of county money by others than county officials illegal. This put an entirely different angle to the matter, resulting in the announcement that the work on the tube would be halted.

Locke points out that, while it will be necessary to go before the next session of the State Legislature to have the counting features in the 1914 amendment nullified, he feels that the plan may proceed under an emergency clause, which will make it operative within thirty days after enactment.

BARS CAN BE LOWERED. Locke says he believes the question will be settled satisfactorily by the time actual work on the project is ready to begin, inasmuch as preliminary surveys will extend over a period of some months, embracing as it does estimates and specifications on the tube.

The commission will discuss the tube question tonight and it is expected it will outline some definite policy and make recommendations to present to the Board of Supervisors. Lechiel M. King, president, will preside.

PROSECUTION NOT TO FOLLOW MOCK MARRIAGE PARTY

Parents of 15-Year-Old Girl Who Was to Wed Married Man Drop Case.

The accident which almost cost the life of a 15-year-old girl, who was to be married to a married man, today saved her prosecution following the police disclosure of plans made by Harris to marry Miss Pythe Winchester, 15-year-old high school girl at an alleged mock wedding planned for Halloween night at the Harris residence.

Members of the police department yesterday obtained the marriage license which Harris prevailed upon Miss Winchester to secure with him in Oakland as a means of making the mock wedding plausible. This will be turned into the county clerk's office by the police with an explanation that Harris is a married man and unable to marry.

"We are going to allow the matter to drop," declared Mrs. Leon A. Winchester, 2147 Ward street, mother of the girl. "My husband and I are both indignant about the whole affair, but for the sake of our daughter who would be the one to suffer from mere publicity in the case we are dropping the matter. We are convinced that Harris is unbalanced or he would never have prevailed upon Faythe to do what she did."

Harris on his cot at Temple Hospital today begs that he be allowed to leave the hospital, but he will be held for some days yet until his injuries sustained when he drove his automobile into a Southern Pacific electric train at California and Russell streets while en route to the home of his "prospective" bride, are improved.

PLANNED AS FEATURE. Miss Cecile Harris today assumed responsibility for the entire affair, declaring that the "mock wedding" was planned by her as a novel feature of her Halloween party to which she had invited a large number of guests. Her father, she admitted, gave her the money with which to pay for the printing of bonafide wedding invitations issued by her and also with which to pay Rev. George A. Werner, pastor of the South Berkeley Community Church, who had been asked by Harris to perform the marriage ceremony without making explanation as to the nature of the gathering.

Prank Disturbs Berkeley Y. M. C. A.

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—A belated Halloween prank last night threw the Berkeley Y. M. C. A. into consternation.

Dense clouds of smoke filled the "Y" building at Allston way and Mylva street shortly after 9 o'clock. Members fled from their rooms and the fire department was called. An investigation revealed a wooden bucket placed on the top of the chimney on the roof of the building.

Members of the Kappa Phi Alpha sorority were roused from their rooms at the chapter house, 2616 Channing way, at 9:45 o'clock this morning by smoke which filled the house. The fire department discovered that a new chimney, installed as a result of a serious fire at the house several months ago, had become blocked. No damage was done.

Five Mysterious Autoists Sought

BERKELEY, Nov. 2.—Five men who were passengers in a mysterious automobile which became stuck in the mud at Grove and Cedar streets, where the latter thoroughfare is being repaired, are being sought by the police. Leslie Barhy, 1709 Stuart street, said he saw the men acting in a suspicious manner. One of them dropped a loaded revolver which Barhy later picked up and turned over to the police. He declared that all the men appeared to be under the influence of liquor.

INQUESTS HELD ON AUTO DEATHS

Two inquests were held by a coroner's jury in the office of Coroner Grant Miller yesterday. One case was that of Mrs. Edith Hansen, who was killed one week ago when the auto in which she was riding with her husband was struck by a Southern Pacific train at Third and Webster streets. Her legs were cut off, and she died from shock. In the verdict, the coroner's jury held that the accident was due to the fact that the company had failed to keep a flagman stationed at that crossing, or to install a safety signal, and that therefore the company was responsible. The jury recommended that some sort of a safety device be installed immediately.

The second inquest was that held in the case of George G. Marsh, of 1421 Grant avenue, who died from a fractured skull received in an auto accident at Grand avenue and Boulevard Way, on August 8. The machine in which he was riding struck the wheel of another machine. Marsh's car turned over three times. Three other persons who were with Marsh were injured. The coroner's jury was unable to place the responsibility for the accident.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Mrs. Halle Schaffner Schlessinger will receive a decree of divorce from Elmer Schlessinger, former general counsel for the United States shipping board, Judge Adam C. C. in the Superior Court indicated today. The formal decree is expected to be signed within a day or two.

"Broadway Rose," New Mae Murray Hit, Comes Here

MAE MURRAY, who achieves the greatest of her successes in "Broadway Rose," which opens a week's engagement at the American Theater tomorrow noon. The engagement of Wallace Reid in "The Ghost Breaker" ends with tonight's performances.

Star's Latest Film Said to Surpass Elaborate "Peacock Alley"

"Broadway Rose" will appear at the American theater tomorrow, comes to Oakland with a reputation awarded by critics who have seen the production, as the most dazzling and entertaining success which Mae Murray has yet achieved.

Scenes more lavish than in "Peacock Alley," a story more delightful than "Peacock Alley," and costumes more striking and more varied.

Miss Murray brings forth a wealth of new costumes and again offers one of her original dance conceptions. Monte Blue, her leading man, has been called "the most beautiful little country girl who wandered into Broadway, the pulse of the amusement world. After arduous years she finally achieved fame as the most talked-of dancer on the stage. It was the heart of a young millionaire rather than this reputation that she craved and how she won it despite mean and envious rivals in well-portrayed sequences.

Tonight's performances close the engagement of Wallace Reid in "The Ghost Breaker" and May McAvoy in "The Top of New York." "Broadway Rose" will be presented at 11:30, 1:25, 3:20, 5:15, 7:10 and 9:15.—Advertisement.

How Would Sherlock Holmes Solve "Who Killed Quist?"

TO solve the baffling mystery of the Quist case, the Oakland Tribune and the T. and D. Theater are offering $50 in prizes for the cleverest solutions of this great society-detective mystery, outlined in the serial which starts in The Tribune Sunday Magazine next Sunday.

First prize is $25; second prize, $10, and third prize, $10, all in cash. In addition, 100 passes to "Sherlock Holmes," featuring John Barrymore, at the T. and D. will be given in pairs to the fifty next best solutions.

All clues must be mailed before midnight Tuesday, Nov. 14, to Quist Mystery Editor, Oakland TRIBUNE.

AUDITORIUM

The successful opening of the San Francisco Symphony season in the Oakland Auditorium theater on Saturday night is to be followed by two other outstanding musical events this week, according to announcements by Miss Jannette W. Potter, manager.

On Friday night Jaler and Pattison, celebrated American pianists, will give a novel recital of piano and violin, and on Saturday evening the San Francisco orchestra, directed by Alfred Hart, will again appear in the same theater with the first of the season's "pop" concert.

Guy Miller and Lee Pattison have created a sensation in the east with the peculiar blending of two personalities through the instruments of their choice. Their programs, according to eastern reports, are distinctly out of the line of the hackneyed and familiar, but make a wide popular appeal.

NEW BROADWAY

The biggest police melodrama given to the screen, "In the Name of the Law," begins a two-day presentation at the New Broadway theater today. The production has already been reviewed by Chief of Police James Dwyer and other police officials of Oakland, and given endorsement as not only a faithful reproduction of events depicting the hazardous life of the policeman, but also commended it as genuine entertainment.

"In the Name of the Law" is a story of a number of possible events. It shows the robbery of a bank and the shooting by one of the police of his own son. Throughout the production the police are shown in all their dangerous undertakings, and also the other side of the line—costly guard, the human side.

Pauline Frederick is on the same program in "Two Kinds of Women." Rodolph Valentino follows Sunday in "Blood and Sand."

AUDITORIUM

Music lovers are promised a rare treat in the unusual performance of Guy Miller and Lee Pattison, who will offer a recital on two pianos and the Oakland Auditorium theater Friday evening of this week under the management of Miss Jannette W. Potter.

Their programs are designed to have a wide popular appeal and are said to be removed from the hackneyed and familiar. Friday night's program follows:

Pieces in B minor.....Haydn
Variations on theme by Beethoven.....Chopin
Tarentelle.....Rachmaninoff
Lupazetti.....Casella
2. Berceuse.....Debussy
3. Polka.....Schubert
Contrapuntal paraphrase on "The Invitation to the Dance".....Weber-Ludovinsky
Tortador and Andalusian.....Torre
Valzer Op. 25.....Rachmaninoff
Scherzo.....Arensky
A Jazz Study.....J. S. Hill
Toccata March.....Rachmaninoff

Today and tomorrow the Chimes theater presents James Kirkwood, supported by Anna G. Nilsson, Norman Kerry, Dorothy Cumming and John Mitchell in "The Man from Hime," by Booth Tarkington and Harry Leon Wilson. It is a story of sunny Italy and summer skies, filled with life and living, with difficult duties and a happy ending.

CURTAIN CALLS

By WOOD SOANES.

SOMETIMES a prophet is honored in his own country, likewise a short story writer. Last night Gerald Beaumont, known to countless readers of the Oakland Tribune as "Billy Fitz," one-time editor of that department, was entertained by newspaper men at the State Theater here. The occasion was the opening of Conway Tearle in "The Referee."

"The Referee," be it known, is the brain child of Beaumont who prepared it first as a short story and then made it into a picture scenario at the behest of the Selznick company which saw the possibilities of the story of the prize ring.

TWENTY SEASONS AGO TODAY.

Tonight marks the opening of the fifteenth season of opera at the Tivoli Theater in San Francisco with "Tosca" as the featured offering. Paul Steinhardt is officiating at the director's chair.

Since the acceptance of "The Referee," Beaumont has given the screen rights to several other short stories. Bill Hart is now filming one in Hollywood and the Universal company has taken eight stories for production next year.

It is also noteworthy that "Wild Oats Lane," the play written by Beaumont and recently produced by George Broadhurst, is to be converted into a picture. The play was an adaptation of "The Gambling Chaplain," a short story, and Maclyn Arbuckle played "Father Joe." The play lost out because of its old-fashioned melodrama, but the picture will follow the story more closely. Beaumont is now living in Alameda.

There is a bit of history about the forthcoming Booth Tarkington play, "Rose Bride," which really should be absorbed by the play-goers of the west who will see the offering in due course of time. First of all, "Rose Bride" was written especially for Bill Burke and it was written to right an unintentional wrong done Miss Burke last season.

As the inveterate theatergoers will recall Miss Burke was given "The Intimate Strangers" as a vehicle last year and it did not prove a riot in any respect. The reason was this: "The Intimate Strangers" was written for a Maude Adams type, a character who has passed the first bloom of youth, and poor Bill's simple-minded look gave no matter how she tried.

Of course Miss Burke wasn't greatly pleased over the failure of "The Intimate Strangers" and she said so and she told the reason why it "flopped" and further more she proved her point. So this year Tarkington was commissioned to write a play for Bill in which she could look good and as young as she jolly well chose and the result is "Rose Bride."

Alan Dinehart will play opposite her and Don McHugh, author of "Slag" and other novels and short stories, will have a part.

EXITS AND ENTRANCES

Edward Leiter of this city has been awarded the contract for remodeling the theater at Grass Valley. The work will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 and will make of the Auditorium a modern show house.

In the San Francisco theaters friends of Teddy Hartman and Paul Steinhardt will be delighted to know that their season at the Tivoli is proving a tremendous success. There is now some talk of reorganization of the old Tivoli grand opera company and a possibility of alternating the shows in Oakland at the Auditorium. Nothing definite is yet decided.

Ralph Pincus, manager of the Columbia in San Francisco, is quite excited over the demand for "Six Cylinder Love" and writes to say that it is not coming to Oakland. Neither is "The Skin Game," the John Galsworthy play which follows the love story at the Columbia. Both shows have been doing nicely in a financial way.

"Able's Irish Rose" is returning to San Francisco next Saturday for its fourth visit. The company which appeared in the play here will be seen at the Valencia theater.

When Victor Moore arrives at the Tivoli he will be met by the company which he was discovered by George M. Cohan and engaged for Kid Burns in "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway."

"Speaking of plays," writes Heywood Brown, "we recommend: 'K. L. Loyalties,' 'The Awful Truth,' 'The Faithful Heart,' 'Kenny,' 'Kiki,' 'Captain Applejack,' 'The Torch Bearer,' 'The Old Soak,' and 'Partners Again.'"

By the way, a Redlighter writes that the run of "Lightning" in Chicago gives promise of running so long that Frank Dacan has discontinued visiting some of the larger cities. Two other companies, which have been on tour, are starring Thomas Jefferson and the other, Milton Nobles. A third company is touring Australia and New Zealand.

Patrons of the theater in England are to have an opportunity soon of seeing Sybil Thorndike in Shelley's play "The Cenci," which has been under the censor's ban for nearly a hundred years. The play was produced once in 1866 at a private performance.

Gerald B. Brodigan, former member of the editorial staff of THE TRIBUNE is now in charge of the John Golden press department. One of his recently inaugurated policies is to devote the sheet called "Concise Play" devoted to the Golden shows.

Bert Fitzgerald, the original daffy-will, is headed for Oakland and the Orpheum. This time he is being assisted by his brother, Lew.

LARGE INDUSTRIES ARE DEVELOPED FAST

BUILDING IS STIMULATED BY RUSH FOR HOMES

EAST OAKLAND LOOKED TO FOR BIG EXPANSION

(By W. E. GIBSON)
(Director Eastside Board of Trade)

It cannot be too generally known that the future growth and development of Oakland residentially, lies toward the east and south. The outstanding reason for this prediction is the fact that this section offers to the home-seekers a delightful climate, as well as a reasonably economic opportunity for a home. Land values are very reasonable and more and more are finding population seeking the warmer belts for residence.

It is reasonable to suppose that when Oakland reaches a population of 500,000 (which will no doubt be within ten years) at least two-thirds of this population will be east of Lake Merritt.

This also will mean that certain business centers in East Oakland will expand and grow in proportion. The eastern part of our city is destined to house that great mass of people called the middle class or common people—who own their own homes and desire the liberty of the great outdoors with sunshine and fresh air.

Along with the greatest industrial activity ever known, we cannot think of anything other than that the coming spring will see a building program being carried into effect which will dwarf the present year by comparison. Every one in the building industry expects this very thing, and this is one of the reasons why they wish to get off to a flying start while men and materials are available, even though weather conditions may be unfavorable at times.

The fact that within a few months no less than five new banks are being established in this territory, many of them opening in temporary quarters, to take care of the business until their permanent business homes can be built, is proof conclusive that east of the lake is to be the industrial center of the San Francisco Bay district.

To those who are thinking of homes, moderately priced homes, as being established in this territory, many of them opening in temporary quarters, to take care of the business until their permanent business homes can be built, is proof conclusive that east of the lake is to be the industrial center of the San Francisco Bay district.

New Garden Tract In Good Quarter

Hopkinstown Quarter Acres, the new residence garden tract of the California Subdivision company, in addition to being convenient to street car and automobile transportation, is unique in its proximity to other well-known points. It is within a mile of Piedmont, less than three-quarters of a mile from both Diamond Park and Joaquin Miller Park, about half a mile from Alhambra boulevard, half a mile from the new Rockwood Road, Thirty-fifth avenue and a quarter mile from the scenic Lincoln avenue. Hopkinstown Quarter Acres is a rare combination of convenience, scenic attractiveness and commodious individual homesites.

City Made Sewing Machine Center

With the arrival of three carloads of sewing machines early this month, Oakland will become the distributing point for one more line of merchandise.

Recent G. B. Moore, of the Domestic Sewing Machine Company, recognizing the advantages of Oakland as a jobbing center, decided to make this a distributing point for all central and northern California, and ordered his eastern shipments routed to this city.

The first commitment was shipped to the eastern seaboard and was put aboard one of the Luckenbach steamers, on which it is being transported direct to the Oakland docks by way of the Panama canal. This shipment left the east on October 7, and is expected to arrive on route next, than thirty days.

Two Branch Banks Now Serving In YOUR Neighborhood

You can get the banking services of Oakland's oldest and largest bank as conveniently as you get groceries or buy bread, right in your neighborhood.

Our branch at East 14th Street and Twenty-third Avenue has long been enabling East Oakland folk to enjoy our service facilities without going downtown. Now we have added another branch for your convenience—on Thirty-eighth Avenue near Penniman Avenue.

You don't have to bother about going downtown. Simply drop in at either of these branches, and say you want to open an account. All the rest will be attended to for you.

VETERAN ACTOR MAKES MIRTH AT LIONS LUNCHEON

Debate On Proposed Osteopathy Bill Between Doctors Also Features Program.

A debate between Dr. W. W. Vanderburgh and Dr. Dudley Smith on the merits of the proposed bill dealing with the practice of osteopathy, appearing on the ballot as Amendment No. 20, took place yesterday before the Lions Club at its weekly luncheon at the Hotel Oakland. The affirmative was taken by Dr. Vanderburgh, while Dr. Smith took the negative point of view.

Will Cressy, the veteran actor, was the guest of honor and read to the gathering his humorous version of the history of California. The following are a few high lights of Golden State history as viewed by Cressy:

Francis Drake entered the Golden Gate and started the St. Francis Hotel.

Lewis and Clark organized cheap excursions over the U. P. railroad.

A prospector named Marshall started a gold cure in the mountains.

Los Angeles was founded by Billy Sunday. That's why it is called the City of Angels.

Mills-U. C. Girls To Play Hockey

Picked hockey teams from Mills College and the University of California will meet on the Mills field on Saturday morning. Winners in inter-class contests recently held will represent each institution. Later in the spring the Mills College women will meet Stanford women in basket ball and archery.

The inter-class hockey matches at Mills have honorees to the seniors over the juniors and to the sophomores over the freshmen. The first game between the lower class women resulted in a tie and the teams played again.

Dr. John Wright Buckham of the Berkeley School of Religion in Berkeley will be the speaker at the vespers service in Lissner hall, Mills College, on Sunday at 7 p. m. "Progress" will be the subject for his address.

Big Corporations to Feel Back Tax Net

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Large corporations in the United States will supply the major portion of back tax collections which the government is relying upon to materially reduce the national deficit this year, it was stated at the treasury department today. Treasury officials said that, according to reports, these collections will run into "six and seven figures."

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands who have found relief from constipation by using Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of "no little sugar-coated, olive-oiled tablets" that cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—a torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick cure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.—Advertisement.

Bridge Tea To Be Given for Bride-elect

Honoring Miss Belle Stewart, bride-elect of Russell Miller, and her bridesmaids, Mrs. J. Francis Edwards of Claremont has issued cards for a bridge tea November 24. Mrs. Edwards will entertain her guests at the home of her parents, the J. M. Hinds, the guest list includes a number of maids and matrons from both sides of the house. Among the out-of-town guests who are expected is Mrs. Ray Holmes (Maud Hind), a sister of the hostess, who since her marriage a few seasons ago resides in Fresno, California.

Miss Stewart shared the honors Tuesday with Miss Margaret O'neary at a smart tea when Mrs. A. M. D. McCormick and her daughter, Mrs. Morris Clark (Cora McCormick) entertained more than a hundred guests at their Claremont home. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stewart (Lucile Crow) are spending their honeymoon in the Hawaiian Islands and are expected to return home within a fortnight.

Mrs. Herbert Connor and sister, Mrs. Eschschon of Alameda, entertained a group of friends at a luncheon and bridge this afternoon at the Fairmont Hotel over the bay. Covers were laid for sixteen guests.

PUPILS WED BY CONTRACT, THEIR PARENTS END IT

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., Nov. 2.—The contract marriage of Mary Alice Morehouse and Levan Cunningham of today when their parents arrived to take them home. The couple had been arrested at a local hotel.

They presented a written wedding contract. It read:

"October 31, 1922, I, Levan Cunningham, and Mary Alice Morehouse, agree to be married in Illinois for six months, after which a divorce will be granted on the request of either party."

The boy is 19 and the girl 16. "Out set found things too slow in Lafayette," Mary Alice said. "Several couples of our class planned to run away and marry the same way. We were all going to meet in Kansas City."

Women Voters Of District to Meet Nov. 17

By EDNA B. RIMARD.

The annual convention of the Northern District, California Civic League of Women Voters is set for Friday, November 17. The vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Miss Marion Delaney of San Francisco has been filled with the election of Mrs. C. E. Whittier of Palo Alto as president for the unexpired term. Miss Delaney gave over the executive position in the Northern District to become president of the California Civic League of Women Voters.

However, she remains a director in the northern district. Mrs. Whittier has served as first vice-president under Mrs. Delaney.

Mrs. J. G. Kearney of Alameda will fill the vacancy in the first vice-presidency. Mrs. Frank C. Law of Oakland, former president of the California Civic League of Women Voters, has been elected to the office of director in the northern district.

The state league has endorsed a proposition which will introduce bills relating to amendments in community property laws, state support to the Shepherd-Towner bill and equalization of the age of majority before the 1923 session of the state legislature.

Music is to be a definite feature in the program of the Oakland School Women's Club this year. A choral section is in process of organization which promises an interesting future in the history of the educational group. All Oakland teachers who find in choral work any attraction are summoned to a meeting tomorrow at 4 p. m. in the Assembly Hall of the Bacon building. Plans for the season's work will be outlined.

Mrs. Isabel M. Morgan is chairman of the section. Associated with her as fellow officers are Miss Margaret Ellis, secretary; Miss Josephine Elftman, treasurer.

The young women of the local dance and dancing societies are organized under the auspices of a mutual benefit association which will assemble for their November dinner tonight in the Young Women's Christian Association building. Six checks have been named for the dinner which will be for the benefit of the program and short business meeting. Miss Alice Brookman, executive secretary of the "Y," will be the principal speaker.

An illustrated talk on Florence will be given by Mrs. W. W. Phillips before the Renaissance Circle tomorrow. De Madeli will be presented in a paper by Mrs. A. Graham. Mrs. A. Graham will be the speaker before the Big Sisters of the Public Welfare League, meeting tomorrow in the Y. W. C. A. building in Webster street. The program is called for 2 p. m. A preliminary hour will be devoted to business of the club.

Graduate Finds Herself Woman Without Country

Mrs. Inez Cecelia Watson, University of California graduate, finds herself under the Cable law literally a woman without a country. In order to accompany her husband to Hamadan, Persia, where he is engaged to do missionary work, she filed her declaration of intention to become an American citizen yesterday. Her application will be heard as soon as possible.

Mrs. Watson, who lives at 953 Delmar street, San Francisco, was born in Sweden. She received her education in the University of California. From the time she took her degree, on October 19 last she married John Anson Watson, also a graduate of the University of California. Before the passage of the Cable law, Mrs. Watson would have automatically become an American citizen through her marriage.

Application for passports to permit the couple to sail for Persia revealed the fact that under the law which offers independent citizenship to women, Mrs. Watson is an alien of this country, and, therefore, cannot be granted the passport. Application to the State department for a passport was also refused on the grounds that Mrs. Watson, under the laws of Sweden is no longer a subject of that land by virtue of her marriage to an alien. The young woman immediately set in motion the machinery which will make her an American citizen.

Autopsy Disproves "Death by Fright"

Mrs. Irene Mary Chesnes, 2635 Foothill boulevard, Oakland, succumbed to a constitutionally weak heart, and did not die as the result of fright sustained by a Halloween celebration, Deputy Coroner Clyde Drennan announced, following an autopsy. It had been surmised that Mrs. Chesnes died of fright when she one threw a stone through a basement window at her home, but Drennan points out that Mrs. Chesnes had been a life-long sufferer from a weak heart, and that she did not complain of any indisposition until the next day, when her husband sent for Dr. W. M. Beck with her.

DRINK WATER IF KIDNEYS HURT

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back pains or Bladder bothers.

Too much meat may produce uric acid, says a well-known authority, which warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative function clogs and the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back, or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, oblige you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to help neutralize the acids in uric acid, and to break up and eliminate all uric acid. It is no longer a source of irritation, thus often ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot harm you. It is a natural, non-toxic, uric acid solvent.

Fervent little water drink, and nobody can make it make by taking a little occasionally to help keep the kidneys clean and active. Drink plenty of water at all times.—Advertisement.

Envoy to France Withdraws Resignation When Chief Orders Him to Stay.

PARIS, Nov. 2.—(By International News Service.)—Count Sforza has withdrawn his resignation as Italian ambassador to France, it was announced today.

ROME, Nov. 2.—(By The Associated Press.)—The authority, the energy and the earnestness with which Mussolini has taken hold of Italian affairs, both internal and external, has created a deep impression in Rome.

His imperative instructions to Count Sforza to remain at his post in Paris until he had reached a decision in the cases of ambassadors who offered to resign and his circular to the prefects "exhorting" their utmost endeavors and efforts, their utmost endeavor and effort, were regarded as a strong indication of the method the new government is going to use in dealing with the business at home and abroad. In like manner a hint as to the manner of running the government Mussolini will pursue was given by his message yesterday to the press associations in which he said he intended to safeguard the liberty of the press on condition that the press proves worthy of liberty.

The strengthening of the line on foreign exchange markets following the change in government at Rome has favorably impressed everyone in financial circles. The dollar has dropped 3 to 4 points while the French franc has receded 8 points since Friday.

Ex-Crown Prince Takes Uniforms For Doorn Wedding

DOORN, HOLLAND, NOV. 2.—(By Associated Press.)—Former Crown Prince Frederick William arrived today for the wedding next Sunday of ex-Emperor William and Princess Hermione of Reuss. Frederick William brought a truck full of baggage, most of which was presumed to be uniforms for the various functions. He avoided attention by stepping into the cales through a small secluded garden gate.

The measures for maintaining secrecy as to the nuptials are increasing as the wedding day approaches. The park is patrolled by men assigned from the ex-kaiser's household staff, the patrols being accompanied by mantrills of forbidding appearance.

Mighty, Powerful Antiseptic Prescription Stops Itching Instantly, and by Its Use Ulcers, Boils, Abscesses and Carbuncles Are Quickly Healed.

Now that tens of thousands know that Moore's Emerald Oil will reduce ugly, dangerous varicose veins to normal, we want them to know that this wonderfully effective agent will dry up eczema eruptions in a few days and cause the scales to drop off and disappear.

It acts the same way with any skin disease, such as barber's itch, salt ricum, redness and inflammatory skin troubles.

So powerful and penetrating is Moore's Emerald Oil that piles are absorbed, sooties and wens are made to disappear and abscesses, boils, carbuncles, tics and open sores are healed in a few days. Moore's Emerald Oil is not a patent medicine, but is a surgeon's prescription that for years has been successfully used in private and hospital practice. Owl Drug Company and all pharmacists dispense it, and complete directions for home use come with each bottle.—Advertisement.

Everyone benefits by the Activities of this Company

EVERYONE residing in "Superior" California has benefited either directly or indirectly by the activities of this Company.

When over 8000 people are given employment—when over a million dollars a month is put into circulation—the butcher, baker and every homemaker feels the prosperity created by such a payroll.

But the enterprise of the P G and E has benefited this section in other far reaching ways. Take for example, the Pit River development.

And think of this: For every one horsepower in power plant development, on the average of 12 acres of unproductive land worth $300 may have four horsepower in motors for irrigation and general use applied to them. Such land then usually produces $1000 in new crops each year and becomes worth approximately $2400.

To industry it means that over time 25 horsepower is harnessed in the mountains, an average of a factory and a half is started involving a capital investment of almost $150,000, providing work for about 34 more people who can produce over $200,000 in new commodities.

AT THE PRESENT TIME this Company has developed power in excess of the immediate demand. While the work of developing power is progressing every effort must be directed to creating more uses for power, in order that the best interests of the community will be served.

FRANK BARRIEAU AND BERT COLIMA BOX TIME DRAW IN MAIN EVENT AT THE AUDITORIUM

JOE LEOPOLD TAKES A DECISION OVER EDDIE GORMAN IN BEST BOUT

Preliminary Boys Provide Real Features of the Show; Joe Eagan Gives Kelly Boxing Lesson; Jimmy Mendo Shows Class

By BOB SHAND

The summer and fall scrap season was brought to a close at the auditorium last night with the poorest show that T. Simpson has ever staged at the big building out by the lake. Tommy admits he had an off-day when he signed up the card but states that there were no real good bouts in sight and he did the best he could. The first two bouts were stopped, two others might well have been stopped and the main event was a flivver. Taking the show by and large the buy being for the tickets the customers didn't buy and the large being for the crowd that was not present, Eddie Gorman and Joe Leopold should have received the main event medals, while the others with the exception, maybe, of Johnny Marvin and Jimmy Mendo should have received some good advice.

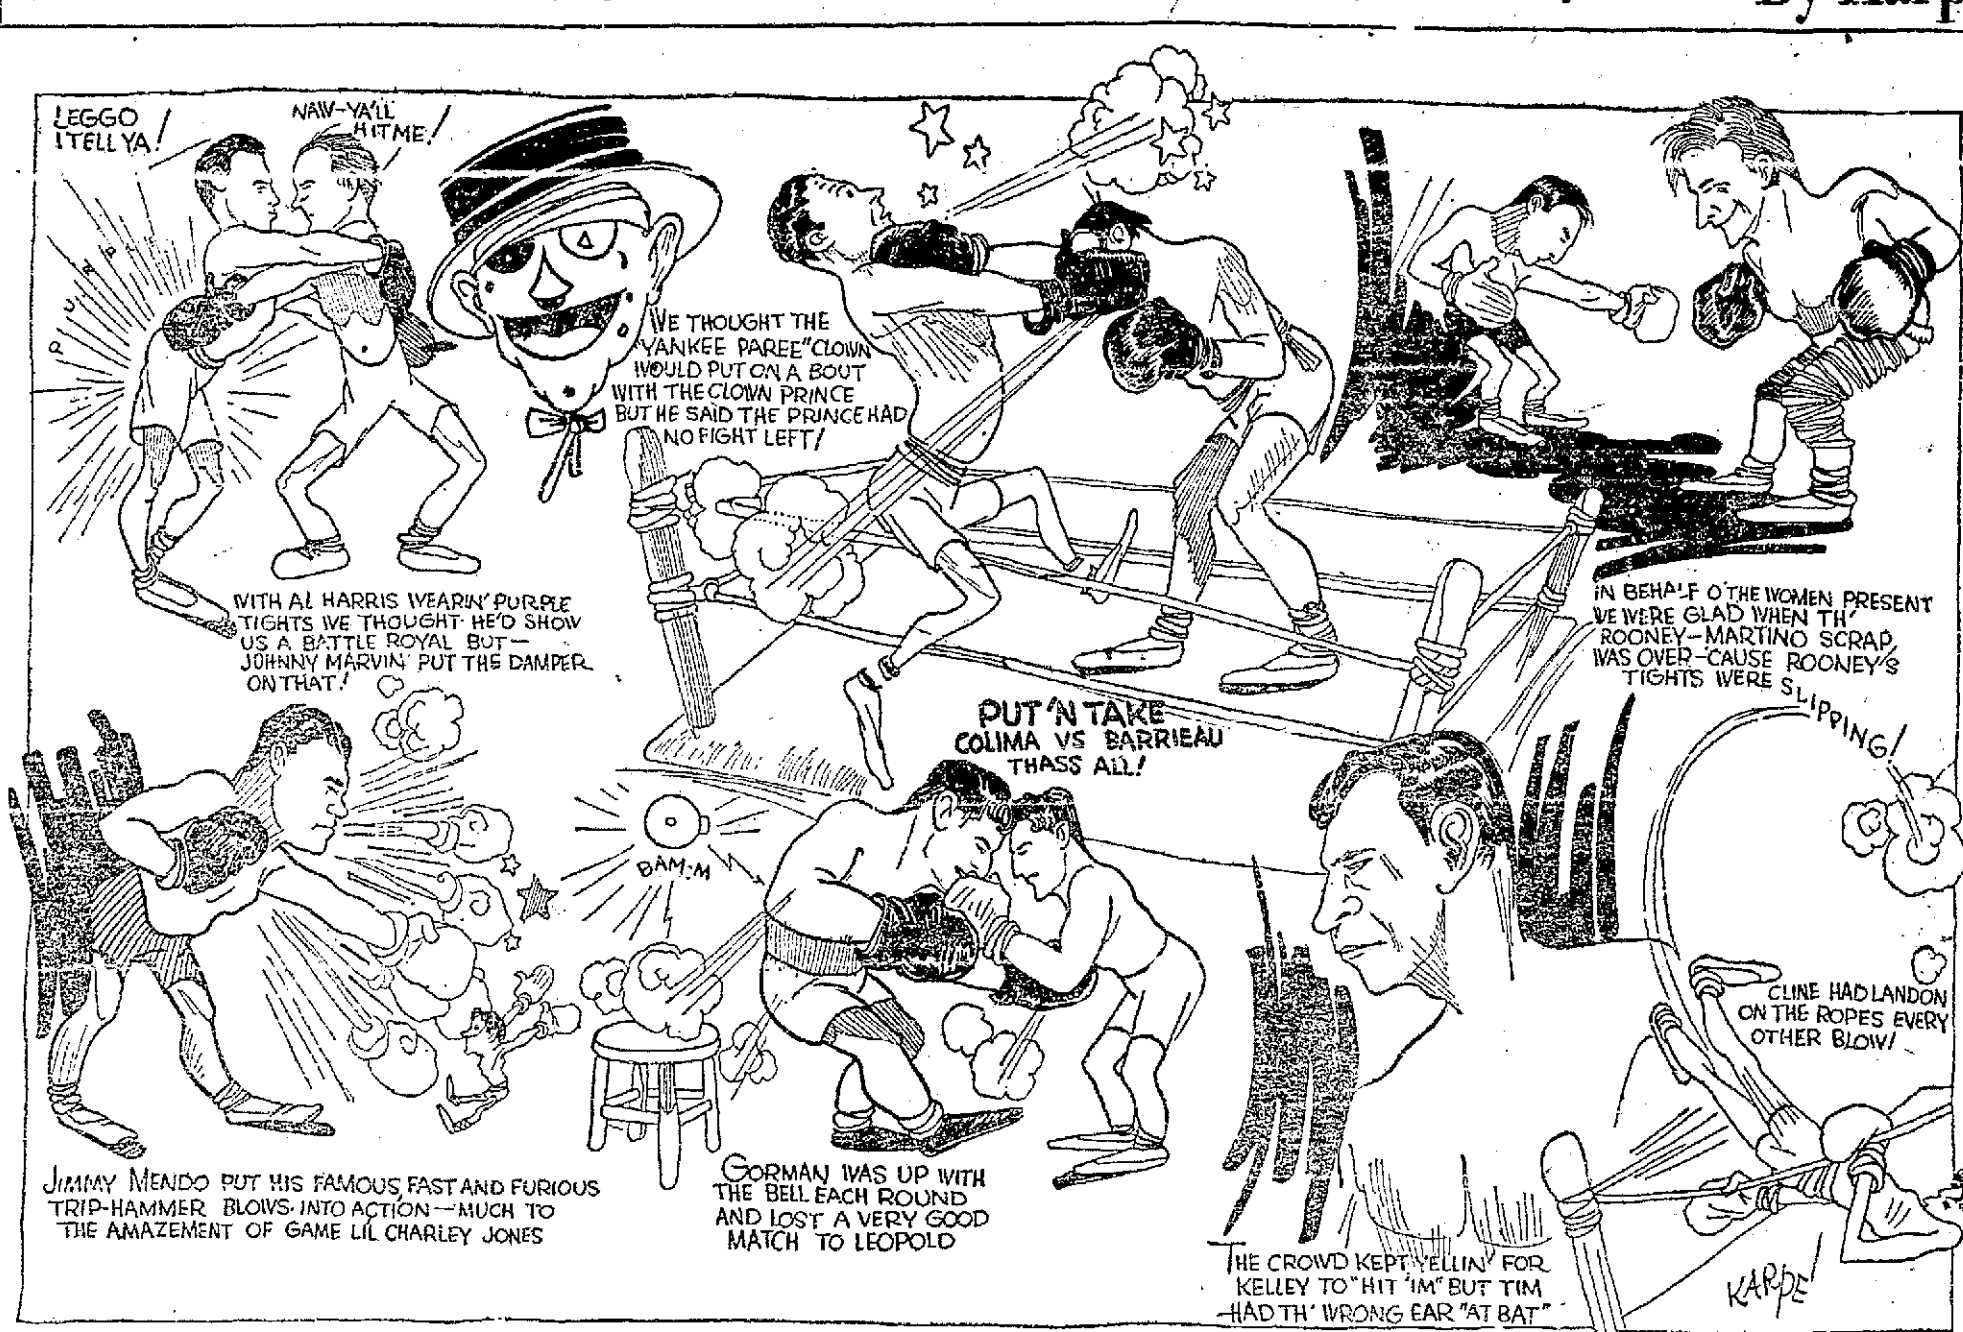

The Gorman-Leopold fuss was one large rip-off. For a real boxing party there has been none like it since Billy Wallace and Frankie McCann entertained and the fans were on their feet clapping for a ten-second wallop in every round. Leopold copped the decision to which he was entitled but Gorman got just as many cheers as his conqueror. The crowd stood to toe and socked. This was all but it was enough to establish them as two of the best box office attractions among the little four-rounders. Leopold did the cleaner hitting and secured the most damage but he took many a poke in the pants before L. Bernstein hammered that old tin pan for the last time.

Too Much Holding Mars Barrieau-Colima Bout

Bert Colima and Frank Barrieau wrestled their way through four rounds to a draw. An occasional haymaker floated through the smoke as the boys eluded each other. Damage was done on either side, but neither kind of a fighter, each might do well. Barrieau put in a good fight with Colima. Gans in his last start being, Colima made a big hit when he outpointed Lee Anderson at the last show, but opposed to even other the middleweights gave a clever imitation of boxing. Their intentions were all right and their punches seldom landed and they spent too much time embracing each other.

Eddie Landon took a decision over Johnny Cline although some of the customers entered a dissenting opinion. Judge E. J. Kaplan voted for Landon and Charlie Josephs thought Cline won. That passed the buck to the referee and he put in with Kaplan. Cline's aggressiveness was a bit with the crowd and on this ground alone could he be given any consideration. He didn't hit Landon a solid punch in the four rounds, while Landon smacked him every time he came in, and just before the end of the first round Eddie non-ed Johnny with a long right hand that staggered the referee and in his opinion was the best left hand aggressive fighter is entitled to

ON THE AUDITORIUM BATTLE FRONT

Gorman was up with the bell each round and lost a very good match to Leopold

RINGSIDE SIDELIGHTS

Mayor Davis missed the show. His son showed up at eight o'clock and was buttonholed in the lobby by Lee Bertillon. By the time Lee got through convincing the mayor and his son that the fight was worth watching, the first pair of scrappers were leaving their corners.

Billy Baccus was among those absent. Frank Callahan, M. Carter and Jack Chambers sat side by side and Jack looked Fred Lander two times on the corners.

Dan McGee sat with the elite and told them all about the Floyd Johnson-Bob Martin fight. Dan was in New York buying neckties and took time off to look 'em over. He says Johnson had to wear Martin down and will take issue with any guy who thinks Johnson has a real punch.

They're wearing 'em lower in New York, according to Dan but he can't do a bit of good here as he is in the men's department.

Gerald Beaumont who is usually seated at the ringside was among those absent. Gerald was the victim of a reception at the State theater where his picture "The Referee" was being shown.

Emeryville was represented by T. M. Tullamore and Eddie Carey. The Acacia-Hill Club was represented by a full membership when Eddie Landon received a just decision over Johnny Cline.

Commissioner Harry Edwards missed his first fight show of the year.

Dr. Morrison, who operates on dogs and cats and things missed most of the fun, telling those around him how he won the dog race at San Pablo last Sunday.

Milt More's silvery voice was missed. Milt, the greatest underdog rooster in the world was stopped dead in his tracks as he was headed for the scraps and went to the T. & D. instead. Yep, Milt is married.

It was a quiet evening. Tony Dutro was not present. Tony went to the movies, also.

Lieutenant Fred Schroeder was not present at the ringside so six or seven other guys got ringside seats.

Sergeant Jim Walteas was in charge with Chief Jimmy Drew sitting close by in civies.

Incidentally and also by the way if there is anybody in this town that ought to know the fight game it is Chief Drew. He used to be the star boxer of the old Reliance club.

After Tim Kelly has his head almost lopped off for three rounds by Joe Eagan the referee asked him how he felt. "Never better in my life" said Tim.

The Optimists club is overlooking a member.

Gus Cohn was strangely missing. Gus hasn't caught a bass for three days and is disappointed.

Britton Bout Will Not Be Investigated

Betting Odds Suspicious and All Wagers Called Off From Ring

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (By International News Service).—"I refuse to be interviewed," was the rather testy answer Wilkes Muldoon, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, vouchsafed today in reply to a question as to why bets on the welterweight championship bout between Jack Britton and Mickey Walker were declared off before the fight began.

"Last night's affair is over," he added. "It is a closed incident."

"Then there will be no investigation of the bout by the commission?"

"Absolutely none," was the heated reply.

By DAVIS J. WALSH, International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Under rather unseemly circumstances Jack Britton was stripped of his world's welterweight title by a young person known as Mickey Walter of Elizabeth, N. J., after fifteen questionable rounds at Madison Square Garden last night. To the writer the fight appeared to bear an unsavory aspect. Perhaps it was quite all right. It is hoped for the sake of the boxing game in this locality that it was.

A half-hour before the bout a prominent fighter told the writer that odds had changed from 1 to 3 on Britton to 9 to 5 on Walker and that all bets would be declared off from the ringside.

The so-called wise money, it was declared, was down at those odds. The really educated money, upon investigation, said that Britton would be knocked out in the tenth round. Perhaps it was a mere coincidence that Britton was on his hands and knees taking a

Jim Darcy Holds Australian Champ Even in 10 Rounds

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 2.—King, champion of the Australian middleweight championship, fought ten hard rounds to a draw here last night. King was the aggressor throughout most of the battle, which was fought out at close quarters.

Four knockouts featured the card, each of the preliminaries ending via the knockout route.

Battling Ortega of Oakland, Cal., stopped Eddie Richards of Portland in the second round of their scheduled six-round fight. They are middleweights.

Johnny Trambitas, Portland, 135 pounds, knocked out Jack Dalton of Blanka in a punch.

Bud Fisher, Portland, middleweight, knocked out Jack Dillon of Portland in four rounds, while Chick Rocco, Portland lightweight, knocked out Young Britten of Seattle in two rounds.

BOXING NOTES.

Honest Man Sends Five Dollar Bill To Jess Willard

Willard, former heavyweight boxing champion, says he is convinced that there is at least one honest man in the world. While training here for a possible return bout with Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, he received the following letter dated Chicago:

"Some years ago I walked on you and a party of friends in Fort Wayne, Ind., and after you had gone I found a five-dollar bill under the table. You paid for the luncheon, and as nobody else had handled any money, I figured the $5 must have belonged to you. I thought I would run across you sometime, but I have not. My religion will not allow me to keep anything that does not belong to me, so I am enclosing a money order for the sum of $5, also hoping to find you well."

The letter was signed T. Martin, 4131 Jackson boulevard, Chicago, Illinois.

Willard endorsed the money order and sent it back to Martin, thanking him and commending him on his honesty.

"I do not think I dropped that $5, for in those days they were too precious to be handled carelessly," said Willard.

count from what appeared to be a terrible punch on the chin when the bell rang, ending the round in question.

PREDICTION BORNE OUT.
Finally the fighter's prediction was borne out in toto when Joe Humphreys bawled from the ring that he "wished to announce on behalf of the New York Athletic Commission and the management of this club that all bets on this contest were hereby called off."

This was the first time any such announcement had been made in an American ring for many, many years. Just what succession of events may have prompted the declaration is not known.

These observations are presented for what they may be worth. There is neither animus or spleen behind them.

JOYRIDE FOR WALKER.
Judged purely on its merits, as fought, the bout was a joyride for Walker. He started punning right into him, fearlessly, as though he was stepping up to an armless paralytic. In the second round he caught Britton off balance with a left hook to the jaw and knocked him down momentarily, losing his mouthpiece during the general excitement.

Starting with the third, Britton began to look like the champion he should have been, and until the sixth round made Walker look silly. That was the end, however.

From then on to the fifteenth the youth was in front from going to going, scoring knockdowns in the sixth, tenth and twelfth. At the end there was not the slightest doubt to whom the verdict would go, some of the customers raising a cheer before Humphreys could finish his atrocious draw. He proclaimed the winner the announcer demanded three cheers for the greatest champion that ever lost his title. That was another one of those things that was never done before. All in all, it was quite a remarkable occasion.

Pete Francis Wins Decision at Stockton

STOCKTON, Nov. 2.—Pete Francis took a well-earned decision from Ray Beers at Stockton, rounds here last night. Vic Morrison and Johnny Arrouse fought a sanguinary draw.

Sailor Ackerman of Vallejo lost to Batting Beans, a Stockton boy.

Pete Woods and Young Sol battled in a clearly fought draw.

Al Harris failed to respond to the bell in the second round of his fight with Kid Northcutt.

Jack O'Neil was knocked out by Joe Cannon of Stockton.

Muff Bronson Loses On Points to Sterns

BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 2.—Billy Sterns of St. Paul defeated Muff Bronson of Portland, Ore., on points in the junior welterweight final at the Alhambra Athletic Club here last night. The twin cities boxer had Bronson apparently on the verge of a knockout in three rounds but was content to hold his lead on points. The Portland boy took terrific punishment that left his face badly marked, but showed enough defensive strength in come back and continue carrying the fight to Sterns.

Football Facts Worth Knowing

By SOL METZGER

- After a captain has asked for time out three times in one-half hour, the referee may allow another player of this side to ask for "time out" without subjecting this team to penalty. Rule 14, Section 2, distinctly says the penalty is given only when the captain makes the request for time out more than three "time outs" during a half.
- The captain is the only person authorized by rule to ask for time out. If he has made three requests his team must be penalized unless player, whom time was taken out of, is removed from the game. Rule 14, Section 2.
- When a player goes down on a punt, he has the right to use his arms to get to ball or opponent. When does this right become theirs—when the ball actually kicked? Our ends used their arms to break by opponents on line of scrimmage but were penalized. Was this a correct ruling?
- Yes. Rule 16, Section 2 (a) states "Players of the side kicking the ball, who crossed the line of scrimmage, may use their hands and arms to push opponents out of the way in order to get to ball or player carrying it." Therefore players must be across the line of scrimmage before they get this privilege.
- One of our guards had broken through the line on a forward pass and was running down the field to make interference after pass was caught. A defensive back ran into him from the side and claimed illegal interference. Was this the right ruling?
- If the back has an opportunity to catch the forward pass it was interference and should have been penalized under Rule 16, Section 3 (a).
- Is it all right for a team making a pass to knock down opponents before the ball is actually passed forward?
- Before the pass has been made, and after the ball has been caught, players may act as interceptors. After the pass is made, they may not.
- If any foul rules are given to the Editor, enclosing stamped, return envelope. We'll give you a quick and correct decision.

Chambers Is Winner Over H. C. Capwell

S. Houdlett and A. W. Johnson Also Win in Claremont Play.

By W. D. McNICHOILL

Three of the postponed third round matches in the Club Championship were played off at Claremont yesterday, leaving two matches to be contested today.

S. Houdlett with a handicap of 3 up and E. Parrish romped in an easy win by the big margin of 6-5.

H. C. Capwell had to acknowledge defeat at the hands of G. R. Chambers to whom he conceded one hole up.

W. W. Johnson conceded Stuart Hawley 2 up on his match at the 10th green 3 up.

Arthur Pinder and C. D. Bates will play their third round match today.

Father Cantillon and J. H. Ames will also attempt to decide who will enter the 4th round match play Sunday.

Players who have already won their third round matches are: Wm. Knowles, F. H. Daley and C. C. Hills.

The draws for the 4th round will be made tomorrow and will be as follows: E. B. Houdlett plays G. R. Chambers; A. Finley or C. D. Bates plays Walter Johnson; E. J. Cantillon or J. H. Ames plays Wm. Knowles; F. H. Daley plays C. C. Hills.

The women members at Sequoyah have decided to postpone their tournament until a later date.

The final contest for the trophy presented by Mrs. Norman deVaux will take place tomorrow.

Mrs. A. L. Lorber took Mrs. Vesper playing a remarkably good game at present, and with the assistance of her three hole handicap should give Mrs. M. C. a good game.

Mrs. West and Mrs. Dittman will contest the second flight final.

Match play against par at handicap holes will begin tomorrow.

San Francisco tomorrow. This form of tournament is superior to medal play, especially during the winter months when players frequently get into bad trouble at one or two holes and spoil their entire score.

Take back to gradually getting back into harness again and is giving a few of his most promising pupils lessons during the morning hours.

His afternoons are still to a considerable extent taken up with medical treatments. Mrs. Dunn Webb who has been giving some of the club members instruction during John's illness will be in attendance for two more weeks.

Truffell and Mrs. Dunn Webb have been very successful in their efforts to win the Claremont trophy.

The Claremonters are up to their high standard of efficiency during their regular instruction enforced absence.

The Crystals have a great infield in Jimmy Devine third, Hal Giegler second, Ollie Burns second and Big John Healy on the initial sack.

Something in the way of a lot of strength to the Laundry line, both with the bat and around second base. He made some fine stops in Sunday's game.

The Don Nether Ford, equipped with a regular slinger against the Del Monte pitcher. Hal got four hard drives and on his last trip hit a long fly to right field.

The class C boys are staging a fight all of their own and are getting a lot of support from the morning fans. The Rivalo Market club, McDough Stars, Souza Grocers are a trio of clubs who are putting up a game fight for the flag.

"Lefty" Humphreys, who started the game for the Durant Motors against the C. L. Best Tractors at San Leandro showed Manager Eddie Vitt a lot of class. Although he showed a good assortment of punnings and was a puzzle to the Tractors.

The games scheduled next Sunday in the American division of the A League are all headliners. The first two sets of games played by the American league were regular battles.

The Best Tractors have signed Ray Garrison and released L. E. Anfinson. Anfinson was let go so he could join the Hayward Boosters with whom several of his San Francisco pals are playing.

William Putnam, playground supervisor at Alameda playground, has a fine ball club in the Class C League. Last Sunday they walked off the McDough All Stars 18 to 4. Encls who covers the right scored as many runs. Dutcher and Ewart did the pitching for Alameda Comets.

The Alameda diamond is much better than it was last winter. Under the direction of Putnam a gain of men scattered all over all over the infield and it is almost as smooth as a pool table when the boys take the field.

Oliver, second sacker for the McDough stars, had a good day, hitting a homer, double and single.

Arnold Quinn, the tall first-sacker of the "Mags" will no doubt be seen back at first base next Sunday. Joe Devine says he is the greatest fielding first-sacker he has seen in the bushes in a long time. Joe hopes to give the kid a few tips on hitting that should help him out.

The Magnavox team released Cason, utility pitcher and outfielder, and the Coney Drug Store nine lost no time in signing him to a contract.

The case of Jimmy Foster who wants his release from the Chevrolet is still in the hands of the advisory board.

"Pop" Arlett threatens to give the Chevrolet Motor team a fine shakeup. Several of the players seem dissatisfied and Pop intends to have things straightened out among his players before the player list closes next Wednesday night. It seems that a couple of

Vacuum Tube Characteristics

(All Rights Reserved by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction Prohibited.)

Under the broad classification "vacuum tubes" is included the various types of evacuated glass bulbs used as transmitters, rectifiers, amplifiers and detectors.

These employ in their construction, reception, or amplification of radio waves are of the three electrode type, the bulb containing three metallic elements, namely, grid, filament and plate. Transmitters range in power from those with an output of a few watts and having the dimensions of a small electric light bulb, to the powerful transmitter tube capable of developing 100,000 watts of high frequency power.

In tubes used for radiating a comparatively low amount of energy the small dimensions of the plate permit but a fraction of an ampere to be conducted due to the excessive heat which develops if longer currents are used. For transmitting tubes of 100,000 watts the plate consists of a heavy copper tube and the great amount of heat generated may be dissipated by immersing the tube in a tank and subjecting the surface of the tube to a constant, cooling, circulation of water. This tube is approximately three feet in length with a diameter of three and one-half inches at the base. The degree of evacuation is such that through a glass top into which the copper tube is sealed with an airtight joint. The insulation between the wires leading to the internal elements is sufficient to withstand a potential of approximately 20,000 volts. The development of this powerful transmitting tube provides a substitute for the expensive high frequency alternator of weight and high speed.

Vacuum tubes of the two electrode type are in general use as rectifiers for the conversion of alternating current into direct current. Of the three electrode types used in the reception of radio signals, the degree to which the tube is evacuated depends upon the service for which it is designed.

Tubes employed as amplifiers are termed "hard tubes" have a high vacuum, are evacuated and operated with a comparatively high plate voltage. It is necessary not only to extract the air within the bulb but also to carefully remove the air from the bulb and from the filament.

The metallic elements which constitute the filament, grid and plate, are exhausted to a greater degree, Helium, neon, carbon dioxide, argon and argon are gases employed in certain tubes to improve the detecting characteristics of the detecting characteristics of tubes with high vacuum may be operated satisfactorily in parallel whereas tubes of low vacuum seldom contain the same quantity of gas and their different characteristics.

For increasing the emission of electrons, the tungsten filament in many types of tubes, is coated with oxides such as calcium, barium or thorium, and oxide-coated filaments are operated at a lower temperature than is required in the case of a pure metallic filament, also evaporates the same quantity of electrons with approximately half the amount of power. For this reason, oxide-coated filaments operate very satisfactorily as detectors or amplifiers.

The tungsten filaments of transmitting tubes should be operated at a constant voltage rather than at constant current as the filament life at constant voltage is approximately three times greater than at constant current. In tubes employed as detectors or amplifiers it is important to operate the filament at as low a temperature as possible consistent with good service and thus prolong the normal life of the filament which will give an average service life of 100 hours.

Farm Wages Lower Than During 1921

The average rate of wages of male farm labor for the entire United States, October 1, was $28.57 a month with board, according to a regular series of quarterly reports from 1,312 county crop reporters to the United States Department of Agriculture. The average rate for the year 1921 was $30.14. By the month without board, the average, October 1, was $15.56, compared with $16.82 last year.

October 1, 1922 wages with board, 1921, were $15.57, compared with $16.82 last year, and day wages without board was $2.98, compared with $3.00 last year.

ceeded the demand at current wages, 33 per cent. stated that the demand exceeded the supply, and 21 per cent. reported an even balance. Excess of supply was stated to be most pronounced in the cotton States, Georgia, Florida, Texas, Oklahoma, and Arkansas; also in Missouri, Nebraska, and Kansas. Demand exceeded supply in New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, and the Pacific Coast States.

1. Coast to Coast Upstairs Stores.
2. $407,000 Saved Yearly in Rent.
3. $10,000,000 Guarantee
4. Our Own Big N. Y. Factories
5. Cash Business—No Credit Losses.

Which have won 500,000 customers
— 100,000 gained in 1921
— 200,000 being gained in 1922!

Even this early in the season, the overwhelming bulk of suit and overcoat sales is swinging to Foreman & Clark! Not only here! In every big city which joins our chain of upstairs stores from coast to coast.

And why not? Where else is there a store offering the finest all-wool garments, bearing a famous national label, backed by a $10,000,000 guarantee, at prices lower than the ordinary wholesale cost?

Where else is there a store selling the product of its own three New York factories at exactly the same prices to-day . . . . . in October . . . . . that it will show next January and February? . . . . . no mark-ups or mark-downs, no juggling of prices!

Where else is there a store which offers a guaranteed $10 to $20 saving over any other clothing in the retail market!

And on such garments as these!

We designed these clothes regardless of selling-price. Our designer thought they would be $40, $50, $60 garments. We put $3.00 and $4.00 wools into them! We gave them 5th Ave. style. We shaped into each coat, beneath the outer front, an INNER front, built like the muscles of a human body.

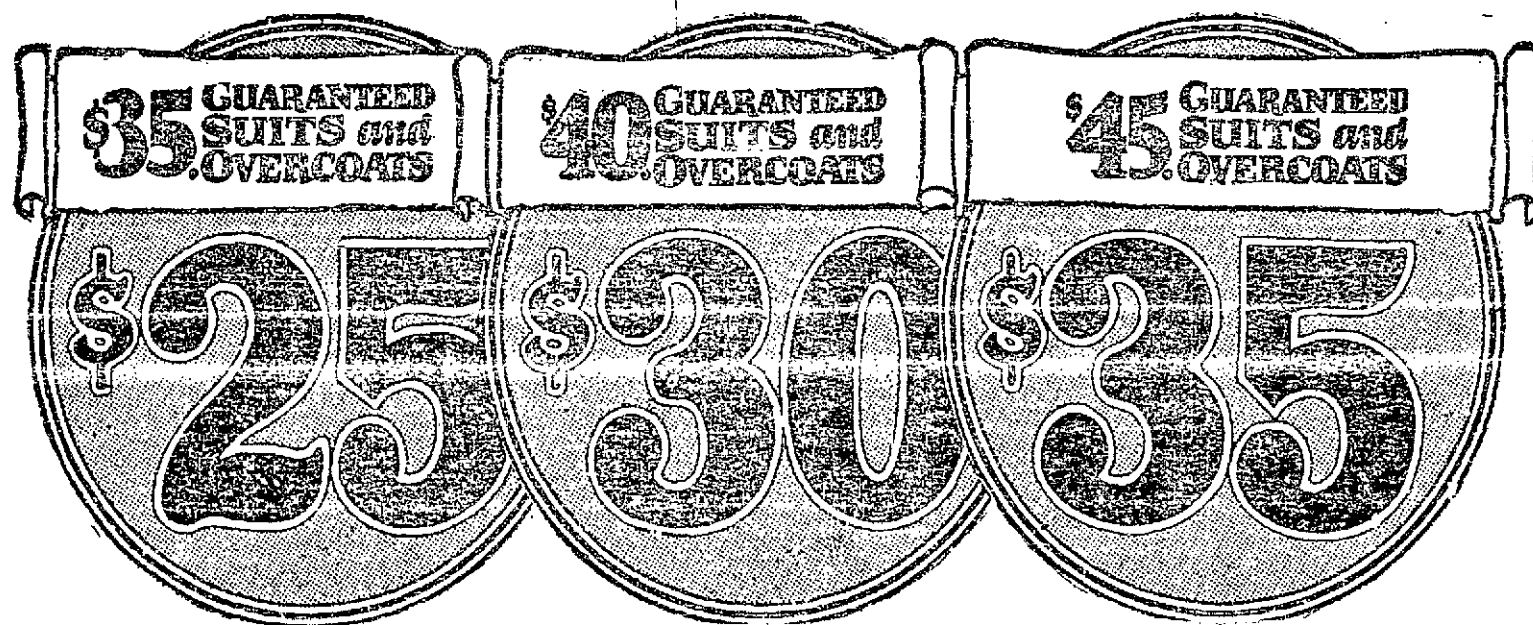

Does the boy need a suit?

Then he needs a Foreman & Clark Jr. suit . . . stands harder knocks and rougher treatment . . . Nothing like it within $5 to $10 of these prices.

$7.50, $10.00, $12.50

One man asks "How have you built such a tremendous business out of nothing in 12 years?" Another asks "How do you hold 83 out of every 100 old customers?" Still others ask "How do you keep your customers all boosting for you, talking for you, enthusing about you to their friends?" To all these, and to any others curious about the phenomenal success of Foreman & Clark from coast to coast, we simply say "See these Suits and these Overcoats." All our principles, all our methods, all our reasons-how and reasons-why can only be judged by the clothing we produce. We have submitted to the public of America the greatest suit and the greatest overcoat which the clothing industry has created . . . . the public's judgment is the reason for our growth!

Genuine silver Hymo instead of coarse haircloth to give the lapels their smooth curve. Genuine white linen canvas instead of cheap cotton canvas. Triple bracing against strain in every direction. 36 hand operations instead of the ordinary 10 or 12.

As with the suit . . . . . so with the overcoat. We shook our fist at the idea that overcoats need not be carefully built inside! We have seen "murder committed" in the name of overcoats . . . . . and high-priced ones at that. Linings have been omitted, construction dropped out, inner fronts forgotten entirely this season by many manufacturers! That merely made our opportunity the greater!

We literally transplanted SUIT construction into Foreman & Clark overcoats. The same materials, the same inside design, the same shape-holding, style-retaining workmanship, coupled with the sleekest, finest, richest overcoatings that the mills of New England could produce from long-strand, all-wool yarns.

We put more INTO every garment because we cut MORE out of the entire cost of distribution. Nineteen different items of profit and expense fall off between our factories and YOU. That's Foreman & Clark for fall and winter 1922!

Look at our $3.50 hats at $2.50

You'll do more than look at them, too. Such soft, rich felt, such good-looking blocks, such stylish shades and colors. The biggest hat value in many seasons of big hat values at this store.
